Westfall Board To Close Building At Williamsport

By MICHELE HULSE
Herald Staff Writer

Westfall's Board of Education has chosen to close the Williamsport school for the remainder of the year and until they can decide on methods of repair and restoration. Their decision was conveyed to the parents of the students in a special meeting last night.

The announcement to shut down the building Mar. 31 came after two inspections by state department officials. Their reports on the condition were read to the assembled citizens.

Richard Brickey, district inspector from the Department of Industrial Relations summarized the condition of the building, declaring it structurally sound. His adverse comments were directed toward negligence in normal repair, specifically loose bricks, window glass and frames, bad plaster and improper wiring.

Both Brickey and the representative from the State Fire Marshal's office, Walter Myers, commented on the "atrocious housekeeping" and warned building officials to cut down on combustible material in the basement and storage areas.

BOTH inspectors pointed out the badly deteriorating fire escape.

An automatic closing boiler room door, immediate removal of clear plastic which was installed on the windows to keep the weather out, loose electric cords hanging over nails, replacing bad floor boards and loose plaster and work to seal the wall bricks in the basement were recommendations of the fire marshal's assistant.

Most noticeable on the marshal's report was the final comment, "This building is unsafe for occupation in its present condition." The department gave the school 30 days — until April 2 — to make the repairs listed.

The board read a resolution it adopted Monday night at its regular school board meeting authorizing the superintendent to close Williamsport Elementary school and arrange for students' transportation to other schools in the district for the remainder of the year.

The action was determined by the present financial condition of the district. At present only $9,000 has been allotted for repairs on all five school buildings. Estimates of repairs to get Williamsport approved for classes again are about $15,000.

The Fire Marshal was called to make inspection of Jackson and Monroe schools and approved both.

WITH this judgment, the board selected a revised classroom program which will be used for the remainder of the school year.

Gilligan Crow Damned Expensive

The Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants on Nov. 18, 1970, heard then Governor-elect John Gilligan make the following statement in an address at the Columbus Sheraton Hotel:

"During the campaign, I was accused of having a so-called billion dollar tax scheme. Our opponents even spelled it out in horrifying detail. It would cost, they said, each family in Ohio $29 per month to pay for our scheme.

"The fact is that there was no scheme then, nor is there one now. It was a figment of the imagination of our opponents' public relations men."

Gilligan's budget for the next two years, the subject of every conversation in Roundtown since its release Monday, seeks $1.6 billion in new taxes.

ONCE again it's the day of the Irish, both real and honorary. It's the weariness of the green, smiling Irish eyes, clay pipes, shamrocks, corned beef and cabbage, green beer but most of all it's a day to have fun.

So whether you're the type Irish who kept pigs in the parlor or had fruit on the table even when nobody was sick, it's your day — make the most of it and be kind to the less fortunate who aren't Irish.

Today everything gets into the act. If you don't believe this, take a look at the corner of Main and Court Streets — even the traffic lights are turning green.

House Panel Nixes Volunteer Army Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee has turned thumbs down on an all-volunteer army but approved President Nixon's proposal to keep the draft for use only in emergencies.

"We killed the volunteer army, extended the draft for two years and did away with student deferments," said Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., after a closed committee session Tuesday.

"In other words, we gave the administration everything they asked for."

Legislation sponsored by 87 House members would have abolished the draft, replacing it with an all-volunteer military by boosting pay and other attractions $3.1 billion next year. This was rejected by the committee 28 to 7.

Nixon's proposal is to keep the draft intact but try to attract so many volunteers, starting with a $1.5-billion pay-benefit boost next year, that no drafting will be necessary by June 30, 1973.

The Armed Services Committee is expected to fatten Nixon's proposal, possibly close to the $3.1 billion in the rejected bill, at its next meeting Thursday.

Hebert's proposal to grant conscientious-objector status to young men in return for three years of national nonmilitary service also is to be considered then.

Nixon's request for the same authority to abolish student draft deferments without going to Congress that he already has used to halt work and fatherhood deferments was approved by the committee 31 to 1.

Such action would leave virtually no deferments except in hardship cases.

It approved 32 to 4 Nixon's proposal to extend the draft two years beyond its June 30 expiration and rejected 29 to 4 a four-year extension.

The Nixon proposal includes a 50-per-cent starting pay boost—to $201.90 a month from the present $134.40 for recruits—and a $3,000 bonus for men enlisting for combat.

Other attractions—such as greater use of civilians for KP and other nonmilitary duties, improved housing, educational opportunities—are similar in both volunteer Army proposals.

Bomb Threats Disrupt Hearing On Angela Davis

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Marin County authorities, exasperated because two bomb threats delayed a court hearing for black militant Angela Davis, say there will be no more building evacuations for that reason.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said extensive security measures virtually eliminate the possibility of bombs being smuggled into the blue-domed Civic Center.

The Board of Supervisors conferred with the sheriff and judges and made the decision Tuesday shortly after the building was evacuated twice by about 2,000 persons because of telephoned bomb threats.

Miss Davis, 27-year-old former UCLA philosophy instructor, is charged with murder, kidnapping and conspiracy in a gun battle at the center last Aug. 7 that killed four persons. Her codefendant, San Quentin convict Ruchell Magee, is accused additionally of murdering Superior Court Judge Harold Haley, one of the four who died.

City Council Changes Income Tax To Bolster Depleted General Fund

Circleville Council passed an amendment to the city income tax legislation Tuesday which will channel more money into the general fund.

The amendment changed the division of income tax funds from 70 per cent for capital improvements and 30 per cent for general operating to a 50-50 split.

"The finance committee submits this amendment reluctantly," David Goldschmidt told his fellow councilman last night. "But it is a solution to the city's financial problems."

The committee chose this solution instead of increasing the rate of the income which remains at one half of one per cent.

THE ordinance was approved unanimously by council and will take effect immediately. Goldschmidt estimated it would channel approximately another $50,000 a year into the general fund.

The councilman noted the ordinance was needed because the current budget was about $27,000 over anticipated income certified by County Auditor Marvyn Rhoades.

He said that wage increases granted by council and the city's share of hospitalization plan recently enacted by council would use most of the remainder of the additional income.

The general fund had a balance of $3,861.41 as of February 28, not enough to meet current bills.

The city's capital improvement fund has a balance of $79,320.71. Goldschmidt noted that capital improvement plans will suffer because of the split.

The February financial report of the city showed a deficit of

Subtanker For Oil Is Planned

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — General Dynamics says it has designed a nuclear-powered submarine to carry oil under the polar ice cap from Alaska and Canada's Arctic islands to world markets.

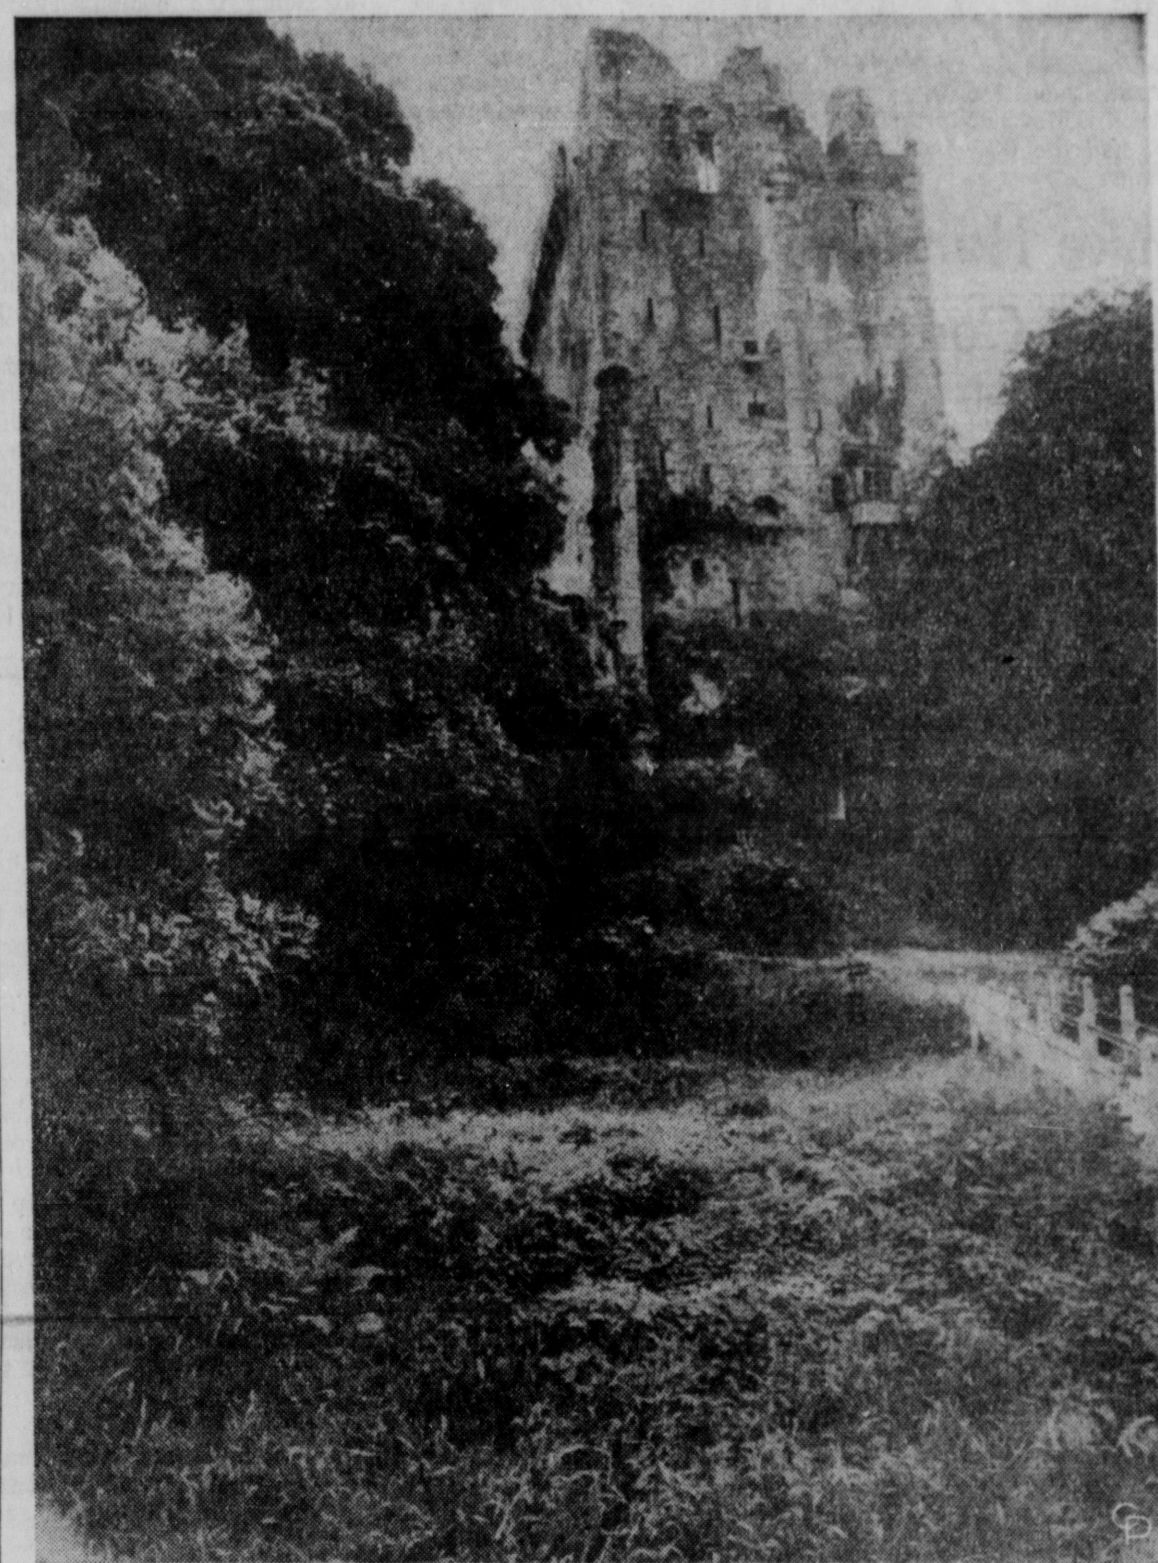

The 255,000-ton undersea vessel would carry 1.8 million barrels of oil per trip. Its primary route would be under the ice of the Northwest Passage to Greenland or Newfoundland, where the oil would be transferred to surface tankers for shipment to East Coast ports in Canada and the United States.

Samuel B. Winram, director of Arctic transportation for General Dynamics, said Tuesday the big submersible oil carrier could be operating within five years.

Plans call for building the subtanker at General Dynamics' shipbuilding divisions at Groton, Conn., and Quincy, Mass. Winram said no starting date had been set pending further talks with oil industry leaders and the U.S. government.

The $2.7-billion sub could operate the year around, which would minimize oil production cutbacks and the need for storage facilities, Winram told a news conference.

The great advantage of the underwater tanker, he said, is its ability to operate at a depth of 400 feet where it would be protected from ice, storms and other hazards that could cause oil spills. The submarine would travel at 17 knots.

ERIN GO BRAGH — St. Patrick's Day puts the news focus on this Irish-hallowed spot in Ireland's County Cork. Its Blarney Castle, resting place of the Blarney Stone, which is located on the left side of the parapet up there. The Blarney goes that if you kiss the Blarney Stone, you will become eloquent, which may be the reason for a lot of Irish eloquence on March 17. Blarney Castle was built circa 1446 by one Cormac McCarthy. Part of the walls are 18 feet thick. Back then, masonry didn't cost much more than blarney does now.

U.S. Viet Strength To Drop To 50,000 By End Of 1972

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird discarded his own rule and publicly indicated a U.S. troop reduction goal in Vietnam below 50,000 by late 1972 because "he feels he can deliver," Pentagon officials say.

KSU Opponents Run For Council

KENT, Ohio (AP) — A former Kent State University student indicted in connection with last May's violence at the school, a member of the grand jury that indicted him and the Kent police chief at the time of the violence are running for city council in separate wards in this northeast Ohio city.

Ronald W. Weissenberger, one of 25 persons indicted, and Lowell T. Davis, 37, a Kent auto parts salesman and one of 15 members of a special state grand jury that indicted Weissenberger, are running in the Democratic primary.

Former Police Chief Roy D. Thompson, 58, is running in the first ward in the Republican primary.

There was some belief that another Laird motive was to take political ammunition away from antiwar Democratic senators and congressmen who have been demanding a fixed date for withdrawal of American troops from the war. But these Democrats yet may claim credit for prodding the administration into its new position.

Before Tuesday, Laird refused to make long-term withdrawal projections and at one time advocated limiting announcements to six months ahead.

Reportedly to Laird's surprise, President Nixon last May jumped a whole year ahead in pledging a pullout of 150,000 men by this May 1.

According to Pentagon officials, Laird favored relatively short term troop withdrawal commitments in the early stages of the Vietnamization program because "there was a question in some minds whether we could make it."

But now, an official said, Laird is "willing to say he can deliver on a 12,500-man per month average reduction in Vietnam."

Since the final outcome of the Laos operation will not be measurable for some time, this suggested that the administration plans to push ahead with disengagement from the war at a measured pace of about 3,000 men a month regardless of what happens in Laos or Cambodia.

One official spoke of a "de facto time schedule" as acknowledged by Laird Tuesday and said withdrawal is "precisely on that schedule."

He did not pin himself down to any specific number of Americans who will still be in Vietnam by the end of 1972.

However, it has been known for some time planning contemplates a residual force of between 30,000 and 40,000 men.

Saigon Units Flee In Retreat Toward Border

By HOLGER JENSEN
Associated Press Writer

HAM NGHI, Vietnam (AP) — Repeated North Vietnamese onslaughts are driving the South Vietnamese out of their bases in Laos and back toward their border with heavy losses. American helicopter pilots reported today.

"They can talk about helicopter mobility all they want, but from where I'm flying there's only one way to describe it—retreat, and a bad one," said WO Fred Few of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Another called it a rout. In the past five days the South Vietnamese have abandoned two of their four firebases south of east-west Highway 9, retreated 15 miles and now are about 14 miles from the Vietnamese border, the pilots said.

A third base, Landing Zone Brown, appears doomed.

"Sure, they've knocked out quite a few enemy supplies and maybe even cut the Ho Chi Minh trail in one or two places," said one pilot, but they haven't stopped the enemy from moving men or supplies, and they're taking a hell of a lot of casualties."

"The enemy is defeated," the Pathe Lao order said. "Now he is trying to retreat. Destroy him."

One ragged column of survivors reached Landing Zone Brown, the westernmost position still in South Vietnamese hands, only to find it under constant bombardment by enemy mortars, rockets and artillery.

South Vietnamese officers in the field said the Saigon troops pulled out of Brown Tuesday night and between 100 and 150 North Vietnamese troops moved in. U.S. air strikes were called in on the hill after the South Vietnamese left.

American pilots said Brown, 14 miles from the border, is still being defended by reinforced South Vietnamese infantrymen but "it's got to fall."

OK Is Sought For Participation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is counting on Congress to support U.S. troop participation in a U.N. police force to secure a hoped-for Egyptian-Israeli peace settlement.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers said Tuesday he was satisfied that if an agreement acceptable to Israel and Egypt can be worked out "our Senate and our House of Representatives would support it."

Rogers also said hopeful conditions now exist for peace even though negotiations are at an impasse at the moment. He warned of danger to the world should the peace efforts fail.

He argued, therefore, the use of big power troops, including Americans, to guarantee any agreement would be a substantial contribution to world peace.

Officials say a peace-keeping force offering new security for Israel and protecting against the possibility of a major war would have strong appeal in Congress.

That any such proposal would face serious challenge in the Senate, however, was indicated by the initial reactions of Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Sens. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and George D. Aiken, R-Vt., all members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Symington said "the less we are involved the better." And Aiken said a peeping force "would be better left to the smaller nations with the United States and the Soviet Union left out."

Rogers said the impasse in the negotiations under UN mediator Gunnar Jarring results from Egypt's insistence on the complete Israeli withdrawal from territory captured in 1967 and Israel's demand for holding positions it considers vital to its security.

Meningitis Outbreak Is Studied

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Allegheny County health department personnel scheduled visits to five schools in the eastern suburbs today to determine if there was a common source of meningitis which killed two students and infected three others within the last month.

The most recent victim of the meningococcal strain of the dreaded disease, a 7-year-old elementary student, died Sunday. On March 9, a 16-year-old student at Penn-Trafford high school died of the disease.

A county health official said Tuesday the outbreak is not considered an epidemic, noting that each case occurred in a separate school.

But as a precaution, health officers are visiting the schools to take throat cultures and investigate the circumstances of each infection.

The first case was reported Feb. 21 at Churchill Area High School. That student, the health department said, has recovered and returned to school.

However, students from the Bessemer Elementary school and Turtle Creek High school remain hospitalized, the health officials said.

NEW YORK (AP) — When American combat troops began deploying across South Vietnam in 1965, digging foxholes and setting up tents in the searing heat, an obliging businessman named William J. Crum was often eager to provide basic comforts: beer on credit, bar snacks, the loan of a cooler, or sometimes a slot machine to pass the time.

The stocky, balding Crum parlayed this good will into lucrative contracts to supply the hundreds of servicemen's clubs that mushroomed across the country for troop morale purposes.

The Shanghai-born American businessman, who with his glass eye and limp shuffled around Saigon like an aged seaman, quickly widened his circle of acquaintances beyond the thirsty GIs. They soon included American generals and senior diplomats. His sumptuous riverside villa became a hideaway for the American brass to relax from the cares of the war and prying reporters. The 52-year-old Crum closed out his Saigon villa late in 1970 and slid from view as surreptitiously as he had arrived five years earlier.

And as he hid out, reportedly on his yacht off Fiji or possibly heading towards Madrid, a Senate subcommittee heard testimony charging him with being "the money king of Vietnam."

He was portrayed as a super-salesman who manipulated bribes, kickbacks and human weaknesses into a Vietnam war fortune worth $40 million. Investigators judged him the single most influential figure ever to do business with military post exchange and club systems in Vietnam.

Crum, the son of an American riverboat pilot on the Yangtze River, attended Beverly Hills High School in California and later, according to one account, prospected for gold. He surfaced Tuesday night in a television interview.

He was interviewed on his yacht in Hong Kong harbor by Mike Wallace for CBS-TV's "60 Minutes." CBS producer Bill Brown said he used a friend of Crum as the go between, and that CBS had been seeking the interview for several months.

Crum, speaking slowly, his words slightly slurred, denied charges that he paid former Brig. Gen. Earl Cole $1,000 a month, making it possible for him to store slot machines on Army property, bring into Vietnam freezers without duty, and permit raids on his competition.

"It's an out and out lie," he commented when told of the charges by the former general

SPELLING CHAMPS — Mike Hamilton was the Circleville City school winner in the annual spellingdown held Tuesday afternoon in the high school auditorium. Mike, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hamilton, 592 Willow Lane, won the title over 19 other contestants. With him is Kathy Fischer, runner-up in the contest.

Sixth Grader Mike Hamilton Wins City Spelling Contest

Twenty fifth and sixth grade students from all the city schools assembled Tuesday afternoon to compete for the 1971 spelling championship.

The title this year went to Mike Hamilton, a sixth grade student at Atwater School. Second place competitor was Kathy Fischer, also an Atwater sixth grader.

The 20 students were top spellers from their classes representing South Court, Corwin, Mound, Nicholas Drive, High St. and Atwater schools.

By winning the city spellingdown, Mike is eligible to attend the state spelling competition at the Ohio State Union in Columbus. He won a $25 savings bond for winning. Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hamilton, 592 Willow Lane.

Her incorrect spelling of "scarcity" lost the title for Kathy Fischer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fischer, 542 Garden Parkway. She will serve as alternate representative to the state contest in May. Her prize was a pen and pencil set.

Judges of the spellingdown were Mrs. Annette Will and Mrs. Frances Pitt. Miss Mary Walters served as pronouncer.

Mayor Proposes Auxiliary Firemen, Police In Annual Message To Council

Circleville Mayor Richard Gerhardt delivered his annual "State of the City" message to city council Tuesday, citing the accomplishments of the past and the needs of the future.

Among his proposals for future course of action by city fathers is one for trained auxiliary forces for the police and fire departments.

In his speech last night, Gerhardt noted that as the city grows larger, it must add some personnel to these departments to maintain existing services. Both are operating at or a little below capacity, according to the mayor, and he sees the utilization of auxiliary forces as a means of maintaining adequate law and order and fire protection.

HE emphasized the auxiliary members would have to have the same training (240 hours for police and 160 hours for fire) as the regular members of the departments and would not change the need for more regular personnel.

The Mayor also stated the park system has not grown with the city, especially in the extreme south and north of the city.

He urged council to initiate a program to expand the park system and to establish to a minimum a summer supervised recreation program.

He suggested that land along the Scioto River should be acquired now for a future park site and proposed a joint county-city effort.

The mayor noted the level of all services provided by the city could be increased without additional expenditures of money by well chosen and prudent use of special programs designed to channel federal funds into cities the size of Circleville. "Circleville pays its share of federal taxes and it should seek to get its share returned," he stated.

Another item of concern to the mayor was the lack of a building code inspector or official. Because there is no such position in city government, there is no active enforcement of the present building code.

THE city service department presently is implementing an annual program of improving and repairing city streets. In addition, the city is moving to relieve congested conditions and bottlenecks for the first time by seeking matching state and federal funds for areas like Nicholas Drive and Route 22 East.

Although the health department continues to provide good basic health service, especially to children, it lacks the manpower to do much in the way of preventive health. One of the most critical problems of the past of not having the proper laws to enforce adequate health conditions has been for the most part solved with the passage of newer health measures.

Modernization of the sewage and water departments is underway, with a study being made for possible softening of the city's water supply in progress and plans being completed for a new sewage treatment plant.

SOME of the more notable improvements listed by the mayor in his report are:

The replacing of old street lights with new and brighter mercury vapor lights; the annual street improvement program which over the last three years has seen over 50 per cent of the city streets improved; the leaf collection program, the acquisition of additional modern fire fighting equipment; the enactment of much needed health measures to control health problems such as noxious weeds, garbage storage and the storage of air tight containers such as refrigerators; the enlargement of the police force and purchase of additional personnel protective equipment for them; plans to review City Hall to see if it should be refurbished or replaced and the completion of a comprehensive master plan for the city.

Probation Extended For Shoplifting

Ronald Lewis Hand Jr., one of the youths charged in the malicious destruction of a farm building on the Harold Hansen farm in Jackson Twp., appeared in court today for violating the terms of his probation.

Hand, 20, of Waverly, was convicted two weeks ago of petty larceny in Columbus. He was picked up for shoplifting a tape cartridge from a chain store there.

Judge William Ammer ruled that Hand's probation would be continued for six months, until Dec. 15, 1971. He ordered the young man to seek medical help as part of his probation.

Hand and the four other boys entered guilty pleas last year to the malicious destruction charge after a jury failed to reach a decision in the case.

City Council ...

$3,722.83 in the police and firemen pension fund and of $5,057.54 in the street construction maintenance and repair fund.

AN ordinance creating a planning and engineering account within the city permissive motor vehicle tax fund and transferring $10,000 to the new account was approved last night by Councilmen Frank Barnhill and Samuel (Pete) Cook voting against it.

Second reading of an ordinance rezoning 26 acres located east of Nicholas Drive from R-2 residential to R-3 residential and AR-1 multiple family dwellings was held to its second reading. The land is owned by Dale Ankrum.

An ordinance releasing a performance bond of $23,000 for the Ridgewood No. 7 subdivision (extension of Edgewood Drive) was approved by council on the recommendation of Atwood Jones, service director, and Charles Taylor, public utilities director. The developer is the L. G. Fairway Corporation.

Councilman Cook voted against releasing the bond on the basis that sidewalks had not been constructed. However, Jones said the street, curbs and gutters and sewer lines met specifications. The sidewalks are not usually installed until construction of housing is completed.

An ordinance authorizing the service director to enter into a contract for an engineering study of improving Nicholas Drive was held to its first reading. Councilman David Crawford, chairman of the council service committee, asked other councilmen to study the legislation so it could be acted on at the first meeting in February. Estimated cost of the study is $4,000.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

A petition signed by residents of Park Place and Folsom Drive seeking installation of curbs and gutters and a storm sewer was presented to council. Tim Miner, a resident of the area, attended council session. The petition was referred to council service committee for study.

Service Director Atwood Jones said a storm sewer plan showed a sewer line in the area in question, but it had apparently never been installed. He told council it appeared to be feasible to install a storm sewer.

Mayor Richard Gerhardt asked council to proceed in acquisition of right of way easements for the extension of Atwater Drive. The mayor objected when Council President Joe Bell asked the service director to check with the city solicitor on progress in securing the right of ways, saying that the executive branch of the city had already done everything it could and it was now up to council.

Councilman Goldschmidt informed council that Solicitor Charles Hosterman had said the right of way legislation would be ready by the next meeting.

Mayor Gerhardt noted that a block by block census breakdown had not yet been received by the city. Work will begin on reapportionment as soon as the count is available.

Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe announced that three men were attending the compulsory fire school and that one member of the department had a broken arm.

A letter from Mrs. Sterling Poling, chairman of the Pickaway County Health Planning Assn. was read. Mrs. Poling asked council to again earmark $1,000 for the association to pay its help fee to the Mid Ohio Health Planning Assn. The request was directed to the council finance committee. By being a member of Mid Ohio Health Planning Assn., the city and county may make use of the health services provided by its staff. Pickaway County Commissioners have already appropriated $2,000 for the purpose.

Over 1,200 Participated In 4-H In Pickaway County

Last year over 1200 Pickaway County 4-H club members exhibited their 1600 completed 4-H projects at the county fair.

4-H club members exhibit livestock, electric, conservation, home economics, and many other projects. The home economics clubs in the county each build a booth at the county fair for their members to exhibit the results of their project work throughout the spring and summer.

The 4-H club members exhibit over 700 head of livestock each year at the county fair. This is one of the largest junior fair livestock shows in Ohio. Many livestock judges have compared the size and quality of the Pickaway County junior fair livestock shows with several state shows.

All 4-H members may exhibit their projects at the county fair in order to receive credit for completion. Members may carry more than one project. At the fair 4-H members are in direct competition with each other for the many fine awards in each of the fair classes.

FAIR is not just exhibiting projects. 4-H members have the opportunity to compete in a livestock judging contest, fair king and queen contest, talent and demonstration contests. It is a busy week for everyone.

The Pickaway County Junior Fair Board takes much of the responsibility for planning and carrying out junior fair activities.

Junior Fair Board members actually are in charge of the talent contest, king and queen contest, livestock judging, style reviews, demonstration contests, and tractor operators contest. In addition, a Junior Fair Board member serves in one of the livestock project areas. The group has already begun plans for the 1971 fair.

In addition, the city is moving to relieve congested conditions and bottlenecks for the first time by seeing matching state and federal funds for areas like Nicholas Drive and Route 22 East.

Although the health department continues to provide good basic health service, especially to children, it lacks the manpower to do much in the way of preventive health. One of the most critical problems of the past of not having the proper laws to enforce adequate health conditions has been for the most part solved with the passage of newer health measures.

Modernization of the sewage and water departments is underway, with a study being made for possible softening of the city's water supply in progress and plans being completed for a new sewage treatment plant.

SOME of the more notable improvements listed by the mayor in his report are:

The replacing of old street lights with new and brighter mercury vapor lights; the annual street improvement program which over the last three years has seen over 50 per cent of the city streets improved; the leaf collection program, the acquisition of additional modern fire fighting equipment; the enactment of much needed health measures to control health problems such as noxious weeds, garbage storage and the storage of air tight containers such as refrigerators; the enlargement of the police force and purchase of additional personnel protective equipment for them; plans to review City Hall to see if it should be refurbished or replaced and the completion of a comprehensive master plan for the city.

Probation Extended For Shoplifting

Ronald Lewis Hand Jr., one of the youths charged in the malicious destruction of a farm building on the Harold Hansen farm in Jackson Twp., appeared in court today for violating the terms of his probation.

Hand, 20, of Waverly, was convicted two weeks ago of petty larceny in Columbus. He was picked up for shoplifting a tape cartridge from a chain store there.

Judge William Ammer ruled that Hand's probation would be continued for six months, until Dec. 15, 1971. He ordered the young man to seek medical help as part of his probation.

Hand and the four other boys entered guilty pleas last year to the malicious destruction charge after a jury failed to reach a decision in the case.

Local Lions Observe 20th Anniversary With Banquet

Circleville Lions observed the 20th anniversary of the local civic organization Tuesday with a banquet held at the Circleville High School cafeteria.

There were 75 members and guests on hand to see three charter members, Clarence Radcliffe, Sam Nau and Wes Edstrom, honored. The trio received 20-year perfect attendance pins.

Robert Dick received a 20-year Old Monarch Award and Robert Wilson a 10-year Old Monarch Award. Nolan Sims Jr. and Frank Woodward received 10-year perfect attendance pins, Fred Howell and Doyle Spangler five year attendance pins.

LIST of members who have one year's perfect attendance included: Sam Cook, Garold Crites, Kenneth Crabtree, West Edstrom, Don Flanders, Kenneth Fosnaugh, Milton Griest, Fred Howell, Robin Jones, George Mallett, Jim McGowan, Larry Mallett, Sam Nau, Jim Peters, Clarence Radcliffe, Nolan Sims, Charles Smith, Dr. David Smith, Doyle Spangler, Chester Starkey, Forrest Thomerson, Lloyd Wardell, Frank Woodward, Gail Wolfe.

Special guests included Bill Althaus, and Art Fisher, of Chillicothe, Merle Hartle, Piketon, John Dollenger, Jackson, all past district governors, and Dick Turner, Jackson, zone chairman of Zone 6.

Entertainment was by the Humboldt Masonic Glee Club.

AND SEW IT GOES — Red Cross Volunteers Millie Conrad (left) production chairman and Margaret Dean "needeley" attack the mounds of Berger Hospital mending at Red Cross headquarters where the first Tuesday of each month has been set aside as hospital mending day. Any person is welcome to volunteer their services to sew for any period of time on that day to aid in the community project. Next mending day is April 6.

Over 1,200 Participated In 4-H in Pickaway County

Last year over 1200 Pickaway County 4-H club members exhibited their 1600 completed 4-H projects at the county fair.

4-H club members exhibit livestock, electric, conservation, home economics, and many other projects. The home economics clubs in the county each build a booth at the county fair for their members to exhibit the results of their project work throughout the spring and summer.

The 4-H club members exhibit over 700 head of livestock each year at the county fair. This year is one of the largest junior fair livestock shows in Ohio. Many livestock judges have compared the size and quality of the Pickaway County junior fair livestock shows with several state shows.

All 4-H members may exhibit

Thoughts Of Vacation

Comes now the time of year when every unusually warm day sends thoughts spinning wistfully, or longingly — as the case may be — toward summer vacation-time. It's only this many or that many weeks or months until a merciless sun will beat down upon millions of Americans starting on their vacations, dashing madly hither and yon, or turning homeward less eagerly to take up the daily grind.

The vacation is an American institution that has developed into one of the nation's largest industries. Everywhere facilities for vacationers are being expanded, new ones are being created, and all will be crowded as never before.

This summer will see more Americans indulging in the great national pastime than ever. Velocity of money will reach a new high as pleasure-bent tourists scatter it from coast to coast — and beyond — and from northern Alaska and Canada to Panama.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — It's as if the projection equipment were being operated on reduced power, dimming the picture on the screen, fuzzing the images and making the action to appear in slow motion.

This situation, common enough for oldtime moviegoers to remember well, is somewhat analogous to the economy today: The script calls for vigorous activity but the drowsy scene unfolding would put the audience to sleep if it weren't so upset.

What happened to the power? Ask the consumer, because he's the one who was supposed to supply it, and he still might.

So you ask him what's the matter, and he replies that certainly he would kick up his heels and spend some of those savings he built up over the past year if he were certain about the future, especially as it concerns his own income.

And there you have another of those enigmas that plague planners. They are relying on the consumer to supply power to the economy, but the consumer is sitting back, building his energy perhaps, but not using much of it.

Only too recently he tried leading the way, taking the initiative and charting the course, and he quickly found himself enmeshed in a tangle of inflation, like barbed wire laid for an enemy. He is not in an expansive mood.

He is, to put it another way, still seeking big wage increases for himself but he isn't spending proportionately.

An editorial in the American Banker phrases the situation this way:

"Since most economists agree that the consumer holds the key to the economy of 1971, the latest manifestation of apathy comes as an extension of disappointment, although by no means a surprise."

To a large degree, the apathy of the consumer is directly related to an apathetic response throughout the economy. That prices, wages, unemployment and so on remain poor, despite Washington programs.

Statistical evidence reveals that inflation, though ebbing, still exists at an annual rate of between three and four per cent, as measured by the Consumer Price Index. Joblessness is down to 5.8 per cent but only because fewer people are seeking work. Wage demands have hardly come down at all.

The sluggish response presents myriad problems, some of them attended by huge consequences, not the least of them being the fate of existing economic policy and the reelection hopes of President Nixon.

The economic issue played a much larger role in last November's elections than had been foreseen by Republicans, but some Democrats were slow to realize its importance. Now they are ready to take advantage of it.

Another consequence concerns the stock market, which rests on an advance of 40 per cent since last fall, one of the sharpest recoveries of the century. Some analysts now question whether the gains can be maintained.

The discussion about stocks involves the disproportionate increase in prices when related to gains in consumer confidence. Either stock prices come down, it is argued, or confidence must be built higher.

Somewhere has got to find out where the short circuit is, and right now the finger is pointing at the consumer.

Laff-A-Day

"When will I be good enough to yell, 'WATCH WHERE YOU'RE GOING, BUDDY!'"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

C. S. FORRESTER, author of the famous Captain Hornblower sea stories, aspired at first to be a doctor, but in a moral examination in his first year at medical school, he couldn't remember the name of a single bone.

He came up with quite an alibi, however. He explained to his questioner, "I thought the examination was tomorrow!"

Irene Kampen, whose account of a "vacation" driving through the Soviet countryside is hilarious (it's called "Are You Carrying Any Gold or Living Relatives," which is how a customs official at the Moscow Airport welcomed her to the country) features an incredible administrator in Tiflis named Basil Eldermann. Basil, who has a weakness for ancient Georgian proverbs and Georgian wines, old and new, persuades Miss Kampen just once to sample a local delicacy named Chacha Puz, which she insists is made from decayed melted cheese served in a patty shell of fried Firestone tire.

Before feasting on this luscious concoction, Comrade Eldermann downs his tenth glass of wine, explaining, "When the wine is strong, the enemies are weak. Ancient Georgian proverb." Miss Kampen, retching, answers weakly, "What the fork cannot cut the stomach cannot digest. Ancient Connecticut proverb."

A demure miss, known as "201" because that's where she tips the scales, has stopped keeping a daily diary. She's discovered she has a peeping Mom.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Has there been any change in attitude about thumb-sucking in young children, or do we still treat it the same way our fathers did?

Mrs. H.B.A. Calif. Dear Mrs. A.: I don't know what your mother's attitude was toward thumb-sucking so I will merely speculate about it. If she punished the child for doing so, then she was wrong and had no real insight into the causes for thumb-sucking.

The modern concept now dates back to almost half a century. Thumb-sucking is considered an important method by which children satisfy some inner emotional need and gain a sense of security. Whether or not thumb-sucking can be attributed to inadequate breast- or nipple-sucking belongs to students of psychotherapy.

Chastising a child for sucking his thumb does him a great injustice. It only increases his anxiety and may make him seek other means on gaining security.

To those who say that the sucking can do a child's teeth an injustice, I answer that it is easier to correct the dental structure than it is to correct an emotional problem.

Most parents will find that if they can be more relaxed with their child and do not badger or nag him to stop thumb-sucking, the process will stop. When? When he is ready to give it up. And with patience he will do so.

Can appendicitis be caused by getting a particle of food in the appendix? Can alcohol be a cause of it?

Mr. B.W.C., Kan.

Dear Mr. T.: Many cases of acute appendicitis have been caused by a seed or a nut or some other particle of food that entered the appendix from the intestinal tract and set up an inflammation. Only recently I read a case report of a tooth found in the appendix during an operation. Of course, this is a rarity.

Many people have inherited unnecessary fears that certain foods can irritate the appendix.

The appendix is a small pouch that projects from the end of the small intestine where it joins the large intestine. Almost anything that will block the narrow tube may be responsible for infection, giving all the symptoms of appendicitis.

Sabotage Is Increasing

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

A number of people were surprised when a bomb exploded in the National Capitol. They shouldn't have been. For, as P. M. Bergman has written in his prefatory note to "The Anarchist Cookbook," "anarchism is anti-parliamentarian" — and too many anarchists spoil the broth. The bombing of the Capitol is quite in keeping with a philosophy that, to quote Mr. Bergman, "wants the abolition of the state out of hand."

What our innocent parliamentarians should know is that they face something that is growing, growing, growing — and such things as the bombing of the Capitol and the allegedly threatened kidnapping of White House adviser Henry Kissinger are logically progressive steps in the terrorist campaign that has taken on snowball momentum and has now rolled right up to the threshold of our government in Washington.

I take my evidence from the horse's mouth, which happens in this instance to be the January issue of Scanlan's magazine, the organ of some deviators from Ramparts magazine who go their dubious intellectual parents one better. This particular issue of Scanlan's is, like "The Anarchist Cookbook," a document that should never have been published. Acting with considerable decency, printers and lithographers all over the U.S. refused to handle it. Yet it has been published — in Quebec — and, since it is being hawked in U.S. bookshops for the wrong people to read, our Senators who were scandalized by the Capitol bombing should get hold of it to see what's up. Once a thing has been published, it becomes a fact of life.

The meat of the magazine is a 28-page center section devoted to listing (with maps) the guerrilla acts of sabotage and terrorism in the United States from January 1, 1965, through September 7, 1970. The listing shows that the increasing guerrilla warfare could wind up beyond arithmetical progression.

The count for 1965 was 16. In 1966, the figure for terrorist acts jumped to 34; a year later, the number was 56. There were 235 acts of terrorist violence in 1968, 514 in 1969, and 544 in the first eight months of 1970. Seventy-two government buildings have been hit (not including the Capitol in Washington, which was bombed after Scanlan's list had gone to its Canadian press).

What makes the "body count" of the terrorists' exploits doubly sinister, as published in Scanlan's, is the surrounding editorial content. As the editors say, with an ill-concealed relish, "today's guerrillas . . . wish to trash the American dream, not sleep with it." The magazine points out that the Library of Congress maintains card catalogues of "some 300 titles on blasting or incendiary bombs and 850 titles on explosives." And "Xerox copies cost a dime a throw." Query: Does any Senator know how many Xerox copies have gone out of his own Congressional Library?

Scanlan's researchers got their statistics of guerrilla "trashings" by plugging through all the daily and Sunday editions of 17 major daily newspapers for six years. They ignored arson and bombings that were merely berserk and criminal "or right wing." So it is the leftist list that you get in Scanlan's, a list that will probably be news for its volume and density even to J. Edgar Hoover. Since guerrilla activity spreads by contagion, the motives for publishing the list should be examined. Now that it is available to the leftists, who will assuredly steal its contents for widespread dissemination in the underground press, we should all have a look at it. No use kidding ourselves.

Finances Improved

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What's the state of the movie industry? Getting better, says Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association.

Maybe, but not everyone agrees.

James Aubrey, president of MGM, says, for instance: "I don't share Valenti's optimism. I think the industry is in poor shape, and it's liable to get worse before it gets better."

Valenti's views were expressed in his 1970 annual report. He claimed evidence that theater attendance was rising and the industry was recapturing its mass audience.

Domestic theater revenue rose 13.1 per cent in 1970 to a total of $1,429,200,000, Valenti reported, without naming his sources. The total was questioned by Daily Variety, which cited the U.S. Department of Commerce figures of $1.1 billion.

Valenti declared that "1970 was not entirely a good year, but one with an upward swing and with artistic and economic barometer pointing to fairer weather in 1971 and beyond."

His view was not supported by Hollywood labor unions and guilds, some of which are suffering more than 50 per cent unemployment. Nor by some of the film companies which have been languishing in red ink.

There are some hopeful signs, however.

MCA, parent company of Universal Studios and Decca Records, recently reported 1970 earnings of $13.3 million, five times the total for 1969. Last week Golf and Western, parent of Paramount, also reported a jump in profits for its second quarter. While there was no breakdown of income within the conglomerate, Paramount undoubtedly added greatly to the goal because of its immense hit with "Love Story."

Likewise the MCA advance was due in large part to the huge grosses from "Airport." Other companies have not fared as well. Despite record income from "M-A-S-H," "Patton," "Hello, Dolly!" and "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid," 20th Century-Fox announced last week it expected a 1970 loss of $65 million. Columbia in its half-year showed profits of less than $1 million, a third of what was made the previous year.

MGM posted an $8.2 million loss, in 1970. United Artists appears to have lost $18 million in 1970, compared to a $16 million profit in 1969. Of the major companies only Disney continued with unabated prosperity; the company's stock soared to over $200 a share last week for the first time.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, March 17, the 76th day of 1971. There are 289 days left in the year. This is St. Patrick's Day.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1776, British troops evacuated Boston. It was the end of a siege by Colonial forces which had begun seven months earlier with the battle of Bunker Hill.

On this date— In 1861, telephone communication was established between Paris and London.

In 1905, Anna Eleanor Roosevelt married her fifth cousin, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, in New York. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, President Theodore Roosevelt.

In 1912, Mrs. Luther Gulick of Lake Sebago, Maine, announced the formation of a new organization she called the Camp Fire Girls.

In 1938, the Loyalist-held city of Barcelona was bombed in the Spanish civil war.

In 1941, the National Gallery of Art was opened in Washington.

Five years ago: An American midget submarine located a missing H-bomb in the Mediterranean off Spain, two months after the bomb had been lost in an airplane collision.

One year ago: The United States cast its first veto in the U.N. Security Council, supporting Britain's refusal to use force against the white government in rebellious Rhodesia.

Harlo's They'll Do It Every Time

Thoughts Of Vacation

Comes now the time of year when every unusually warm day sends thoughts spinning wistfully, or longingly — as the case may be — toward summer vacation-time. It's only this many or that many weeks or months until a merciless sun will beat down upon millions of Americans starting on their vacations, dashing madly hither and yon, or turning homeward less eagerly to take up the daily grind.

The vacation is an American institution that has developed into one of the nation's largest industries. Everywhere facilities for vacationers are being expanded, new ones are being created, and all will be crowded as never before.

This summer will see more Americans indulging in the great national pastime than ever. Velocity of money will reach a new high as pleasure-bent tourists scatter it from coast to coast — and beyond — and from northern Alaska and Canada to Panama.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — It's as if the projection equipment were being operated on reduced power, dimming the picture on the screen, fuzzing the images and making the action to appear in slow motion.

This situation, common enough for oldtime moviegoers to remember well, is somewhat analogous to the economy today: The script calls for vigorous activity but the drowsy scene unfolding would put the audience to sleep if it weren't so upset.

What happened to the power? Ask the consumer, because he's the one who was supposed to supply it, and he still might.

So you ask him what's the matter, and he replies that certainly he would kick up his heels and spend some of those savings he built up over the past year if he were certain about the future, especially as it concerns his own income.

And there you have another of those enigmas that plague planners. They are relying on the consumer to supply power to the economy, but the consumer is sitting back, building his energy perhaps, but not using much of it.

Only too recently he tried leading the way, taking the initiative and charting the course, and he quickly found himself enmeshed in a tangle of inflation, like barbed wire laid for an enemy. He is not in an expansive mood.

He is, to put it another way, still seeking big wage increases for himself but he isn't spending proportionately.

An editorial in the American Banker phrases the situation this way:

"Since most economists agree that the consumer holds the key to the economy of 1971, the latest manifestation of apathy comes as an extension of disappointment, although by no means a surprise."

To a large degree, the apathy of the consumer is directly related to an apathetic response throughout the economy. That prices, wages, unemployment and so on remain poor, despite Washington programs.

Statistical evidence reveals that inflation, though ebbing, still exists at an annual rate of between three and four per cent, as measured by the Consumer Price Index. Joblessness is down to 5.8 per cent but only because fewer people are seeking work. Wage demands have hardly come down at all.

The sluggish response presents myriad problems, some of them attended by huge consequences, not the least of them being the fate of existing economic policy and the reelection hopes of President Nixon.

The economic issue played a much larger role in last November's elections than had been foreseen by Republicans, but some Democrats were slow to realize its importance. Now they are ready to take advantage of it.

Another consequence concerns the stock market, which rests on an advance of 40 per cent since last fall, one of the sharpest recoveries of the century. Some analysts now question whether the gains can be maintained.

The discussion about stocks involves the disproportionate increase in prices when related to gains in consumer confidence. Either stock prices come down, it is argued, or confidence must be built higher.

Somebody has got to find out where the short circuit is, and right now the finger is pointing at the consumer.

C. S. FORRESTER, author of the famous Captain Hornblower sea stories, aspired at first to be a doctor, but in a moral examination in his first year at medical school, he couldn't remember the name of a single bone.

He came up with quite an alibi, however. He explained to his questioner, "I thought the examination was tomorrow!"

Irene Kampen, whose account of a "vacation" driving through the Soviet countryside is hilarious (it's called "Are You Carrying Any Gold or Living Relatives," which is how a customs official at the Moscow Airport welcomed her to the country) features an incredible administrator in Tiflis named Basil Eldermann. Basil, who has a weakness for ancient Georgian proverbs and Georgian wines, old and new, persuades Miss Kampen just once to sample a local delicacy named Chascha Puzi, which she insists is made from decayed melted cheese served in a patty shell of fried Firestone tire.

Before feasting on this luscious concoction, Comrade Eldermann downs his tenth glass of wine, explaining, "When the wine is strong, the enemies are weak. Ancient Georgian proverb." Miss Kampen, retching, answers weakly, "What the fork cannot cut the stomach cannot digest. Ancient Connecticut proverb."

A demure miss, known as "201" because that's where she tips the scales, has stopped keeping a daily diary. She's discovered she has a peeping Mom.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Has there been any change in attitude about thumb-sucking in young children, or do we still treat it the same way our fathers did?

Mrs. H.B.A. Calif. Dear Mrs. A.: I don't know what your mother's attitude was toward thumb-sucking so I will merely speculate about it. If she punished the child for doing so, then she was wrong and had no real insight into the causes for thumb-sucking.

The modern concept now dates back to almost half a century. Thumb-sucking is considered an important method by which children satisfy some inner emotional need and gain a sense of security. Whether or not thumb-sucking can be attributed to inadequate breast- or nipple-sucking belongs to students of psychotherapy.

Chastising a child for sucking his thumb does him a great injustice. It only increases his anxiety and may make him seek other means on gaining security.

To those who say that the sucking can do a child's teeth an injustice, I answer that it is easier to correct the dental structure than it is to correct an emotional problem.

Most parents will find that if they can be more relaxed with their child and do not badger or nag him to stop thumb-sucking, the process will stop. When? When he is ready to give it up. And with patience he will do so.

Can appendicitis be caused by getting a particle of food in the appendix? Can alcohol be a cause of it?

Mr. B.W.C., Kan.

Dear Mr. T.: Many cases of acute appendicitis have been caused by a seed or a nut or some other particle of food that entered the appendix from the intestinal tract and set up an inflammation. Only recently I read a case report of a tooth found in the appendix during an operation. Of course, this is a rarity.

Many people have inherited unnecessary fears that certain foods can irritate the appendix.

The appendix is a small pouch that projects from the end of the small intestine where it joins the large intestine. Almost anything that will block the narrow tube may be responsible for infection, giving all the symptoms of appendicitis.

Sabotage Is Increasing

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

A number of people were surprised when a bomb exploded in the National Capitol. They shouldn't have been. For, as P. M. Bergman has written in his prefatory note to "The Anarchist Cookbook," "anarchism is anti-parliamentarian" — and too many anarchists spoil the broth. The bombing of the Capitol is quite in keeping with a philosophy that, to quote Mr. Bergman, "wants the abolition of the state out of hand."

What our innocent parliamentarians should know is that they face something that is growing, growing, growing — and such things as the bombing of the Capitol and the allegedly threatened kidnapping of White House adviser Henry Kissinger are logically progressive steps in the terrorist campaign that has taken on snowball momentum and has now rolled right up to the threshold of our government in Washington.

I take my evidence from the horse's mouth, which happens in this instance to be the January issue of Scanlan's magazine, the organ of some deviators from Ramparts magazine who go their dubious intellectual parents one better.

This particular issue of Scanlan's is, like "The Anarchist Cookbook," a document that should never have been published. Acting with considerable decency, printers and lithographers all over the U.S. refused to handle it. Yet it has been published — in Quebec — and, since it is being hawked in U.S. bookshops for the wrong people to read, our Senators who were scandalized by the Capitol bombing should get hold of it to see what's up. Once a thing has been published, it becomes a fact of life.

The meat of the magazine is a 28-page center section devoted to listing (with maps) the guerrilla acts of sabotage and terrorism in the United States from January 1, 1965, through September 7, 1970. The listing shows that the increasing guerrilla warfare could wind up beyond arithmetical progression.

The count for 1965 was 16. In 1966, the figure for terrorist acts jumped to 34; a year later, the number was 56. There were 235 acts of terrorist violence in 1968, 514 in 1969, and 544 in the first eight months of 1970. Seventy-two government buildings have been hit (not including the Capitol in Washington, which was bombed after Scanlan's list had gone to its Canadian press).

What makes the "body count" of the terrorists' exploits doubly sinister, as published in Scanlan's, is the surrounding editorial content. 2nd Satellite
Is Orbiting
By Peking

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China announced Tuesday that it launched its second space satellite on March 3, almost two weeks ago.

The official New China News Agency said the 487-pound space traveler has "successfully sent back scientific data on various experiments at frequencies of 20,000 and 19,995 megacycles between March 3 and 15, and is now continuing the planned work of the scientific experiment."

The satellite makes one orbit every 106 minutes along a trajectory with a low point 165 miles above the earth and a maximum altitude of 1,134 miles, the announcement said. "It added that its orbit was at an angle of 69.9 degrees to the equator."

The U.S. Defense Department reported the launching soon after the satellite went up, calling it further evidence of China's progress toward developing an intercontinental ballistic missile.

China's first satellite was launched April 24, 1970, weighed 381 pounds and broadcast a song, "The East Is Red," honoring Communist party Chairman Mao tse-tung.

The Chinese news agency gave no further technical details on the second satellite.

Zodiac
Is Back

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A new letter from an unknown killer who calls himself Zodiac says he has run his score of murder victims since 1966 to 17.

The letter, received Monday by the Los Angeles Times, claimed responsibility for the unsolved stabbing death of a coed at Riverside City College 60 miles east of here five years ago.

"This is the Zodiac speaking," it said. "Like I have always said I am crack proof."

The letter was mailed Saturday at Pleasanton, near San Francisco. Previous letters were mailed from there to the San Francisco Chronicle.

San Francisco police, although skeptical of many of the killings claimed by the mystery man, believe he was linked to five slayings in the San Francisco Bay area since July 1968.

A handwriting expert said the letter received by the Times was written by the same person who wrote previous letters signed by Zodiac.

19 Mexicans
Held In Plot

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Nineteen Mexicans trained in guerrilla tactics in North Korea have been arrested and charged with plotting to overthrow the Mexican government, Atty. Gen. Julio Sanchez Vargas announced Monday night.

Sanchez Vargas said the group included three women. Calling themselves the Revolutionary Action Movement, their purpose was to create urban guerrilla groups in the capital and other Mexican cities, he added.

"They received military and political training at different times since 1968 in a military base near Pyongyang sponsored by the government of that country," Sanchez Vargas said.

He said they sought to establish a Marxist-Leninist regime and were trained in the use of all types of weapons, explosives, rural and urban guerrilla tactics. They also received political indoctrination, he said.

Sanchez Vargas said the group included electronics experts and students who had studied at Lumbumb University in Moscow under a Mexican-Soviet cultural exchange program.

Dow Chemical
Over Pollution

TORONTO (AP) — Premier William Davis says the Ontario government is going to sue the Dow Chemical Co. for $35 million because of mercury pollution in parts of the Great Lakes system.

Davis told a news conference Monday his government would demand $25 million for damage "to the natural environment, the fisheries and the wildlife" of the chain of waterways.

The premier said the suit would also ask that Dow Chemical of Canada Ltd. and its parent, Dow Chemical Co. of Midland, Mich., clean up the beds of the St. Clair river, Lake St. Clair, the Detroit river and Lake Erie or pay $10 million more to his government to do the job.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren
Friends Mistake Relationship

DEAR ABBY: Have you any words of comfort or advice for a woman who is the same age as her husband but is often mistaken for his mother?

That is my problem. My husband has always been extremely young-looking for his age. He has a trim athletic build, a full head of hair and a boyish grin.

I am naturally big-boned and have always had a weight problem. (I'm a good cook and I love to eat.) My hair started to turn gray when I was in my late 20s, but friends say it's "becoming."

I have to dress matronly because they don't make smart youthful dresses in my size.

When my husband is with our 18-year-old daughter everyone thinks he is her "date." When he is with me they think he is with his mother. What can I do besides feel sorry for myself?

ROCK OF AGES
DEAR ROCK: Enlist the help of TOPS, Weight-Watchers, or your friendly family physician plus the local health club, and get your figure down to where it should be. For every 20 pounds you lose you will look 10 years younger! And quit apologizing for your "matronly" wardrobe. If you can't find smart, youthful styles in your size, make some. Now, about your hair, Lady. Gray hair may be "becoming" — but it's not youthful. Don't wait until Monday to begin the self-improvement program. It's later than you think. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: Something has been bugging me for several months and I have decided to get it off my chest. My son and daughter-in-law live out of town, and they have an adorable family. The kiddies call me "Grandma" which I love, but I do not like it at all when my daughter-in-law calls me "Grandma." This I have told her several times, but she pays no attention.

I visited them over the Christmas holidays and before putting up the stockings on the fireplace my daughter-in-law asked me what she should put on my stocking. I said, "Put 'Mother' on it: it's my son's house, and I am his mother."

So she said, "Well, it's also my house, and you are not my mother!" So I told her to just leave my stocking blank. And that is what she did. I felt very hurt. So how does a mother-in-law cope with a girl like that?

MOTHER-IN-LAW
DEAR MOTHER-IN-LAW: It's not easy. But you must dislike your daughter-in-law for other reasons than what she calls you. Think it over.

DEAR ABBY: A letter signed "Pro and Con" was in your column. It was from a man who was having a mild disagreement over whether he and his wife should continue to bathe their adopted daughter, age 11, and their own son, age 9, together. He said the kids have separate bedrooms, but they undress in front of each other and have always bathed together, and from the standpoint of sex, they seem to ignore the difference.

You said, "As long as the children are not self-conscious about their bodies, do not make an issue of it; if you suggest that they 'hide,' they may become unduly curious, or get the idea that nudity is 'wrong' or dirty. As your daughter matures she will acquire modesty without being told."

Well, I am an 11-year-old girl and I know the facts of life. And if an 11-year-old girl isn't conscious of her body yet, someone should explain a few things to her.

I have a 9-year-old brother, and I sure would not care to bathe with him. Have you ever seen how dirty a 9-year-old boy can get?

CONSCIOUS 11-YEAR-OLD
DEAR ABBY: I hope this will help "Heartbroken in New England" to understand:

Our only child, a son (22 years old) was killed five years ago. Since then he has had three babies named after him. We feel very grateful and honored to know that these friends loved our son so much they named their offspring after him. STILL GRIEVING BUT HONORED

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, unsuccessful Democratic Candidate in 1968, said Monday he was "not playing games with the nomination" in 1972 and lambasted President Nixon on domestic issues.

Humphrey said he would wait to "see what the situation is" before deciding whether to be a candidate.

However, he said he supported President Nixon's effort to end the war in Vietnam and doubted if it would be an issue in the next campaign.

"I am not going to make an issue of Vietnam. The shortest distance from war to peace is not through Laos and Cambodia, but through Saigon and Washington."

"I would include Hanoi, but I think Saigon and Washington speaks well. I think Saigon can pretty well take care of Hanoi. I can't believe President Nixon will go into 1972 with active American participation in Vietnam. He said he hoped Nixon will accelerate troop withdrawal."

"He's going to have my co-operation."

Emmett Chapel WSCS Welcomes New Members

Women's Society of Christian Service of Emmett Chapel United Methodist Church met recently at the church. Twenty members answered roll call by naming their favorite household chore.

Mrs. Foster Jenne opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. Marvin Dumm selected for devotions John 3:7-17 and read "Need For Salvation" and "Wait For Easter." She closed the devotions with prayer.

Welcomed by members into the society were Mrs. Ray Anderson, Mrs. Neal Frazier and Miss Carol McCoskey.

Mrs. Jim Ullman, president, read 1 Peter and "So Little Time." She said that there will be a District Meeting on April 2nd at Glenwood United Methodist Church in Columbus. Members were urged to have their reservations in by March 25th.

At the next meeting everyone is to bring a lady with them who attends the church but doesn't belong to the society.

A Sunrise Breakfast will be held at the church April 11. Serving will be Mrs. Gordon Hannigan, Mrs. Hoyt Timmons, Mrs. Robert Bauer, Mrs. Ted Thomas and Mrs. Foster Jenne.

A Mother - Daughter Banquet will be held in May. Mrs. Foster Jenne and Mrs. Ted Thomas will be in charge of the program. Other committees are Mrs. Gordon Hannigan, tables and chairs; Mrs. Clyde Cook Jr., Mrs. H. H. Shuttleworth and Mrs. Charles Wellman, decorations and favors; Mrs. Robert Lloyd, reservations.

Mrs. Ted Thomas, Mrs. Hoyt Timmons and Mrs. Larry Justice celebrated birthdays this month, and the society sent 53 cards and made 31 visits.

Mrs. Sarah Carithers and Mrs. Joyce Sobatka from the Child Day Care Center spoke to the society and showed slides. The center needs good clean clothing in all sizes.

Serving refreshments were the hostesses, Mrs. Harry Wright, Mrs. Robert Valentine, Mrs. Howard Smith and Mrs. Marvin Rittinger.

Dinner Fetes Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Marshall, Lynn, Karen and Doug of Route 2 Circleville, entertained in their home Sunday March 14th, honoring Mrs. Marshall's mother on her birthday anniversary. A noon meal was enjoyed and the afternoon was spent in visiting and reminiscing.

Attending were the honored guest, Mrs. Jessie Thomas of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norris, Susan, and Patty of Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. William Norris of Ashville; Mrs. Florence Leist and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Reigel, Roe and Ned of Little Walnut; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Norris of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas and Mike, and Florence Metzger, all of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norris of Athens.

Evening guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Martin of Newark, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marshall of Jefferson Addition, Circleville. Mrs. Thomas received birthday wishes by phone from Clarence Thomas and Mrs. Robert Burk, son and daughter who reside in Illinois.

Guild 16 Entertained

Mrs. Paul Cromley and Mrs. Harold Eveland entertained Berger Hospital Guild 16 recently at Pickaway Arms. Ten members enjoyed a dessert course preceding the business meeting.

A report was given by Mrs. Dwight Steele on the General Guild meeting held Jan. 23 at Berger Hospital in the guild room. It was agreed to add two new members to the guild.

Canasta was played with prizes awarded to Elizabeth Deming and Jane Southward.

In April a luncheon will be held at Pickaway Arms.

Sheriff Speaks Of Courts To Jaycee Wives

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff was guest speaker for the recent meeting of Jaycee Wives Club in the home of Mrs. Tom Howell, 529 Elm Ave.

Sheriff Radcliff told about the duties of the different judicial courts and gave examples of various cases. A question and answer period followed.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Howell and co-hostess, Mrs. Bruce Bell to 15 members and one guest.

Emmett Chapel Junior UMYF Plans Contest

Emmett Chapel Junior UMYF met recently in the fellowship room of the church with 15 members and four guests attending.

Members voted to purchase basketball and bankboard equipment for the church if they received approval of the administrative board.

It was agreed to hold a contest for six weeks to get members to attend Sunday School. The two teams are named Redbirds and Bluebirds. The contest will begin March 14th and end April 18th.

The fellowship is sending two boxes of candy, nuts, powdered drink and other items to servicemen in Vietnam.

An auction conducted by Mrs. Gordon Hannigan was held following the meeting.

Members are to bring kites to the next meeting on March 20th when they will fly them. Darlene Quinzel will bring refreshments.

Refreshments were brought and served by Penney Disbennett. Attending were Vicky and Gary Hall, Darlene Quinzel, Penney Disbennett, Debbie, Bruce, Brian and Randy Hannigan; Rocky Huggins, Mike and Jeff Davis, Greg Stevens, Karen and Krista Gifford, Keith and Kevin Dumm, Mrs. David Dumm, David Beavers and Mrs. Gordon Hannigan.

Art League Has Workshop On Sculpture

Circleville Art League met Monday evening at Jerry's Ceramics, E. Franklin St., with 14 members present. Mrs. Audra Turner presided.

Mrs. Linda Shanning asked members to deliver their pictures to hang during the Roundtown Players production of "Generation" to Memorial Hall on Thursday, March 25, from 7-8:30 p.m. Pictures are to be picked up on Sunday, April 4.

Mrs. Arnold Johnson's display of art work will be in the library and the Saving Bank during April. Mrs. Laura Hatfield will display her work at Pickaway Manor during April and May.

The Spring Art Show will be held May 9th through 15th at Pickaway County Court House. Pictures are to be delivered May 8th from 10 a.m. until noon.

The next meeting will be 8 p.m. April 19th at the home of Mrs. Glenn Yapple, Route 2. Mrs. Sally Hostetler will lead a workshop in weaving.

Members spent the balance of the evening making clay sculptures.

Voters Face School Levy

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A $2.2 million bond issue and 2.8 mill operating levy for a vocational high school are expected to be back on the ballot in November, Warren County School Supt. Orin Souther says.

The bond issue and levy were rejected in a special election Tuesday by votes of 2,292 to 4,765 and 2,305 to 4,577 respectively. They also had been defeated last November.

The proposed high school would cost a total of $4.4 million and Souther said that the other $2.2 million would be provided by the state if the issues passed.

The school would serve about 1,200 pupils now in Franklin, Lebanon, Little Miami, Deerfield - Union, Waynesville and Springboro school district. The school would also provide training for adults.

Souther said that "we don't seem to have anyone against vocational education, they just don't seem to want to pay for it."

Store rice at room temperature in a tightly closed container to keep out dust, moisture and insects. Choose a cool, dry place in your kitchen not near the stove. Do not store rice near soap or other products with strong odors.

PREVIEW — Shown with some of the articles to be sold at a rummage and bake sale Friday are members of Berger Hospital Guild Linda McConnell on the left and Suzanne Gibson. The event will begin 8:30 a.m. and close at 4:30 p.m. in the basement of the Fraternal Order of Eagles lodge, 135 E. Main St. Proceeds will be used for the guild's annual gift to the hospital.

Tom Weldon Addresses Ashville Garden Club

Ashville Garden Club held its first meeting since December recently in the home of Mrs. Eugene Borror, Ashville. Meetings will be held in July and August this year.

Mrs. Richard Hedges, president, presided over the meeting. The garden collect was read by Mrs. Harry Speakman and members repeated the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

Roll call was answered by members reading verses of thinking of you cards. The cards were later addressed and sent to shut-ins in the community.

Correspondence read included notes of thanks from The Children Services, Mrs. Willison Leist, chairman of the Pumpkin Show Flower Show and Mrs. Bernard Savey, president of the Council of Pickaway County Garden Clubs. Also read was a brochure on the 10th Annual Clara B. Ford Garden Forum at Greenfield Village in the Henry Ford Museum, April 12-23.

Miss Martha Brinker reported on the dinner meeting at Wardell's Party Home recently, sponsored by the Circleville Garden Club.

Miss Brinker, program chairman, introduced Thomas Weldon, Pickaway County Director of State of Ohio Division of Natural Resources. Mr. Weldon showed and narrated two interesting films. The first, a Walt Disney production, was about the weasel family including the skunk, wolverine, weasel, mink, marten, otter, badger, grizzly bear and black footed ferret. All members of this family are flesh or fish eaters and each have fine coats of fur much in demand.

The mink is second to the otter in swimming ability. There are 100,000 mink trapped each year. The marten is protected by law in most states with the red squirrel number one on his diet. The otter, friendly and fun-loving, lives in pairs or families, has two pups to a litter, relishes salmon, trout, cray fish and frogs.

The badger is known as an earthmover. The wolverine is always hungry with everything dead or alive favorite game. The grizzly bear will not attack. He is anti-social even with others of his kind except during a short mating season. The black-footed ferret is practically extinct in the United States but

Emmett Chapel WSCS Welcomes New Members

Women's Society of Christian Service of Emmett Chapel United Methodist Church met recently at the church. Twenty members answered roll call by naming their favorite household chore.

Mrs. Foster Jenne opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. Marvin Dumm selected for devotion John 3:17 and read "Need For Salvation" and "Wait For Easter." She closed the devotion with prayer.

Welcomed by members into the society were Mrs. Ray Anderson, Mrs. Neal Frazier and Miss Carol McCoskey.

Mrs. Jim Ullman, president, read 1 Peter and "So Little Time." She said that there will be a District Meeting on April 2nd at Glenwood United Methodist Church in Columbus. Members were urged to have their reservations in by March 25th.

At the next meeting everyone is to bring a lady with them who attends the church but doesn't belong to the society.

A Sunrise Breakfast will be held at the church April 11. Serving will be Mrs. Gordon Hannigan, Mrs. Hoyt Timmons, Mrs. Robert Bauer, Mrs. Ted Thomas and Mrs. Foster Jenne.

A Mother-Daughter Banquet will be held in May. Mrs. Foster Jenne and Mrs. Ted Thomas will be in charge of the program. Other committees are Mrs. Gordon Hannigan, tables and chairs; Mrs. Clyde Cook Jr., Mrs. H. H. Shuttleworth and Mrs. Charles Wellman, decorations and favors; Mrs. Robert Lloyd, reservations.

Mrs. Ted Thomas, Mrs. Hoyt Timmons and Mrs. Larry Justice celebrated birthdays this month, and the society sent 53 cards and made 31 visits.

Mrs. Sarah Carithers and Mrs. Joyce Sobatka from the Child Day Care Center spoke to the society and showed slides. The center needs good clean clothing in all sizes.

Serving refreshments were the hostesses, Mrs. Harry Wright, Mrs. Robert Valentine, Mrs. Howard Smith and Mrs. Marvin Rittinger.

Dinner Fetes Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Marshall, Lynn, Karen and Doug of Route 2 Circleville, entertained in their home Sunday March 14th, honoring Mrs. Marshall's mother on her birthday anniversary. A noon meal was enjoyed and the afternoon was spent in visiting and reminiscing.

Attending were the honored guest, Mrs. Jessie Thomas of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norris, Susan, and Patty of Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. William Norris of Ashville; Mrs. Florence Leist and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Reigel, Roe and Ned of Little Walnut; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Norris of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas and Mike, and Florence Metzger, all of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norris of Athens.

Evening guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Martin of Newark, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marshall of Jefferson Addition, Circleville. Mrs. Thomas received birthday wishes by phone from Clarence Thomas and Mrs. Robert Burk, son and daughter who reside in Illinois.

Guild 16 Entertained

Mrs. Paul Cromley and Mrs. Harold Eveland entertained Berger Hospital Guild 16 recently at Pickaway Arms. Ten members enjoyed a dessert course preceding the business meeting.

A report was given by Mrs. Dwight Steele on the General Guild meeting held Jan. 23 at Berger Hospital in the guild room. It was agreed to add two new members to the guild.

Canasta was played with prizes awarded to Elizabeth Deming and Jane Southward.

In April a luncheon will be held at Pickaway Arms.

Sheriff Speaks Of Courts To Jaycee Wives

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff was guest speaker for the recent meeting of Jaycee Wives Club in the home of Mrs. Tom Howell, 529 Elm Ave.

Sheriff Radcliff told about the duties of the different judicial courts and gave examples of various cases. A question and answer period followed.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Howell and co-hostess, Mrs. Bruce Bell to 15 members and one guest.

Emmett Chapel Junior UMYF Plans Contest

Emmett Chapel Junior UMYF met recently in the fellowship room of the church with 15 members and four guests attending.

Members voted to purchase basketball and bankboard equipment for the church if they received approval of the administrative board.

It was agreed to hold a contest for six weeks to get members to attend Sunday School. The two teams are named Redbirds and Bluebirds. The contest will begin March 14th and end April 18th.

The fellowship is sending two boxes of candy, nuts, powdered drink and other items to servicemen in Vietnam.

An auction conducted by Mrs. Gordon Hannigan was held following the meeting.

Members are to bring kites to the next meeting on March 20th when they will fly them. Darlene Quincel will bring refreshments.

Refreshments were brought and served by Penny Disbennett. Attending were Vicky and Gary Hall, Darlene Quincel, Penny Disbennett, Debbie, Bruce, Brian and Randy Hannigan; Rocky Huggins, Mike and Jeff Davis, Greg Stevens, Karen and Krista Gifford, Keith and Kevin Dumm, Mrs. David Dumm, David Beavers and Mrs. Gordon Hannigan.

Art League Has Workshop On Sculpture

Circleville Art League met Monday evening at Jerry's Ceramics, E. Franklin St., with 14 members present. Mrs. Audra Turner presided.

Mrs. Linda Shanning asked members to deliver their pictures to hang during the Roundtown Players production of "Generation" to Memorial Hall on Thursday, March 25, from 7:30 p.m. Pictures are to be picked up on Sunday, April 4.

Mrs. Arnold Johnson's display of art work will be in the library and the Saving Bank during April. Mrs. Laura Hatfield will display her work at Pickaway Manor during April and May.

The Spring Art Show will be held May 9th through 15th at Pickaway County Court House. Pictures are to be delivered May 8th from 10 a.m. until noon.

The next meeting will be 8 p.m. April 19th at the home of Mrs. Glenn Yaple, Route 2. Mrs. Sally Hostetler will lead a workshop in weaving.

Members spent the balance of the evening making clay sculptures.

Voters Face School Levy

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A $2.2 million bond issue and 2.8 mill operating levy for a vocational high school are expected to be back on the ballot in November, Warren County School Supt. Orin Souther says.

The bond issue and levy were rejected in a special election Tuesday by votes of 2,292 to 4,765 and 2,305 to 4,577 respectively. They also had been defeated last November.

The proposed high school would cost a total of $4.4 million and Souther said that the other $2.2 million would be provided by the state if the issues passed.

The school would serve about 1,200 pupils now in Franklin, Lebanon, Little Miami, Deerfield-Union, Waynesville and Springboro school district. The school would also provide training for adults.

Souther said that "we don't seem to have anyone against vocational education, they just don't seem to want to pay for it."

Store rice at room temperature in a tightly closed container to keep out dust, moisture and insects. Choose a cool, dry place in your kitchen not near the stove. Do not store rice near soap or other products with strong odors.

PREVIEW — Shown with some of the articles to be sold at a rummage and bake sale Friday are members of Berger Hospital Guild Linda McConnell on the left and Suzanne Gibson. The event will begin 8:30 a.m. and close at 4:30 p.m. in the basement of the Fraternal Order of Eagles lodge, 135 E. Main St. Proceeds will be used for the guild's annual gift to the hospital.

Tom Weldon Addresses Ashville Garden Club

Ashville Garden Club held its first meeting since December recently in the home of Mrs. Eugene Borror, Ashville. Meetings will be held in July and August this year.

Mrs. Richard Hedges, president, presided over the meeting. The garden collect was read by Mrs. Harry Speakman and members repeated the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

Roll call was answered by members reading verses of thinking of you cards. The cards were later addressed and sent to shut-ins in the community.

Correspondence read included notes of thanks from The Children Services, Mrs. Willson Leist, chairman of the Pumpkin Show Flower Show and Mrs. Bernard Savy, president of the Council of Pickaway County Garden Clubs. Also read was a brochure on the 10th Annual Clara B. Ford Garden Forum at Greenfield Village in the Henry Ford Museum, April 12-23.

Amish Find Land Scarcer While Cost Goes Up

By JEFF FORSTER
Lancaster New Era

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Technology and economics are striking hard at the core of Amish life, the religious conviction that traditionally has bound them to the soil.

Simply put, the Amish dilemma is too many sons, not enough land and the high cost of land when it is available.

Amish fathers accustomed to setting up their sons and daughters on adjacent tracts, are finding land scarce and costs high.

"At $1,500 to $2,000 per acre, a young person doesn't have a chance," says an Amish father. "And if you help one child, you can't help them all."

Even existing farms are finding prosperity an increasingly difficult crop to cultivate and those men not needed for agricultural chores are finding themselves forced into what they call public work — once scorned and long taboo.

Lancaster County in central Pennsylvania has a rich agricultural heritage, and its "plain people," the Amish, have won fame as growers.

Estimates within Lancaster's Amish community indicate anywhere from 10 per cent to nearly 50 per cent of the people are being forced from the fields.

Many, still hope to save enough from industry or construction to buy a 50-acre spread, but to realize their ambition they may have to move out of the area and seek pastures that are more expansive but less expensive.

While they abandon the earth, hopefully for just a short spell, many — and women are among them — still labor with their hands in reasonable facsimiles of the farm way of life.

They unload bags of grain at a feed mill, pound nails into houses, push pieces of wood, squeeze electric drills, sweep factory floors.

NFO Ships Grain Out

CINCINNATI (AP) — Thousands of bushels of soybeans, grown in Ohio, are being shipped to the Gulf of Mexico in a move by National Farmers Organization members to drive up grain prices.

The soybeans were hauled here Tuesday by a group of NFO members from Ohio. A caravan of trucks left Sandusky early Tuesday and other farmers joined in as it moved southward. The soybeans were taken to the Queen City Grain Co. and dumped into barges on the Ohio River.

NFO members in other states also prepared soybeans for shipment to the Gulf of Mexico. From there, the soybeans will be shipped into foreign countries.

John Walter, coordinator of the Ohio project and from Tiffin, said that the soybeans have already been sold for export.

Price levels on grain in the United States are now at 68 per cent parity, the lowest in 33 years, Walter said.

Fair Skies Prevalent

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair and pleasant weather was the rule in wide areas of the nation today, but a late-winter chill persisted in the Midwest.

Snow flurries dusted scattered sections from the middle Ohio Valley to northern New England. Light to moderate snow also sifted into parts of the Rockies. Two inches whitened Owyhee, Nev., before daybreak.

Arctic cold over the northern Great Lakes plunged temperatures near zero in northern Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota overnight.

Mild weather clung to the Eastern Seaboard, the South and Southwest.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from -3 at Marquette, Mich., to 74 at Key West, Fla.

8 Patients Die From Bacteria

DETROIT (AP) — During the last four months, eight patients at Henry Ford Hospital have died of blood infections as the result of receiving intravenous fluids contaminated with bacteria, federal officials report.

Another 52 persons at the hospital were infected but cured, said investigators from the federal Center for Disease Control—CDC—in Atlanta.

The CDC, which released its findings last weekend after three months of study, counted 150 cases of septicemia—blood poisoning—brought on by the contaminated fluids throughout the country. One death was recorded in addition to the eight here. Officials said they were uncertain why Ford hospital had so many cases.

GAO Softens Defense Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting office has substantially softened a report which criticized the Pentagon for encouraging inefficiency and high profits by defense contractors, the Washington Post reports.

The new version was written after the first draft was submitted to the Defense Department and five contractor trade associations for review. It contains data supplied by 154 weapons makers who were asked to report on their profits, the Post said Monday.

The revised document does not suppress the material from the first report but mutes its impact by suggesting no serious problem exists, the newspaper said.

Youth Faces Nixon Threat Indictment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Vietnam veteran who now is AWOL was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday on a charge of threatening to kill the President.

Glenn Scott South, 19, of Columbus is alleged to have written a letter mailed from San Francisco to Kerry Patesel of Columbus saying: "I'm gonna assassinate the President and anyone is his presence. It sounds like I'm joking, but I'm not."

In another case, five persons were charged with conspiring to break into the parcel post annex of the Steubenville, Ohio, Post Office in January, 1971, and to steal and transport U.S. property.

Named in the indictment on conspiracy counts were Franklin V. Tesack of Paris, Pa.; Joseph V. Truglio of Follansbee, W. Va.; Karen Sue Bonacci and Joseph A. Bonacci Jr. of Weirton, W. Va., and Willie N. Harris of Steubenville.

Tesack and Vincent also were charged with burglary, and causing damage in excess of $100.

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

Cloudy skies and light snow flurries were general over the state through the night. Temperatures dropped into the 20s over all but a few locations along the Ohio River, where readings in the low 30s, were reported.

Snow flurries, though numerous, were light and gave little accumulation.

A weak high pressure area extends from Minnesota to the western Gulf of Mexico and is expected to cross Ohio late today.

It is followed by a low pressure center developing in Utah this morning. By late Thursday the low will be in mid Mississippi Valley.

Snow flurries were expected today. Cloudless skies will be the rule throughout the state tonight.

Cloud cover associated with the low will move over Ohio Thursday. Southerly winds in back of the ridge will send temperatures into the 40s and possibly lower 50s. By late Thursday showers developing ahead of the low will have reached southwestern Ohio.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Chance of snow flurries northeast today. Gradual clearing west and south. Highs in the 30s and lower 40s. Clear and cold tonight. Lows in the 20s. Increasing cloudiness and warmer Thursday with a chance of afternoon showers southwest. Highs Thursday in the 40s and lower 50s.

NORTHWEST INLAND — Clearing. Highs today in the lower and mid 30s. Clear and cold tonight. Lows 20 to 25. Increasing cloudiness and warmer Thursday. Highs in the mid to upper 40s.

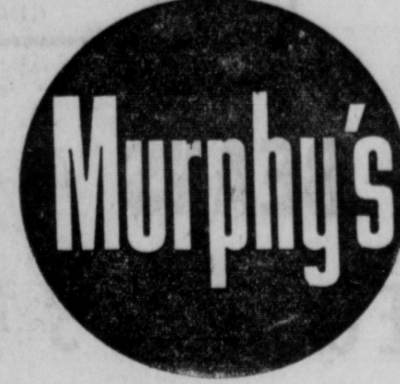

CENTRAL, SOUTHEAST — Clearing late this afternoon and tonight. Highs from the middle 30s to near 40. Lows tonight in the lower to middle 20s. Increasing cloudiness and warmer Thursday. Highs in the upper 40s and lower 50s.

Migrant Workers 'Saved' By Nixon

MIAMI (AP) — Nearly 1,200 jubilant Florida migrant workers held a candlelight procession and celebrated a Thanksgiving Mass after President Nixon declared South Florida a disaster area because of crop failures.

Many of the migrants had been among the crowd of 500 who went back to their shacks bitter and angry Sunday after waiting 20 hours near Nixon's Key Biscayne retreat near here in a vain effort to appeal personally to the President for help. But the President acted Monday.

About 15,000 South Florida field hands have been out of work since a January freeze destroyed a major portion of the area's vegetable crops.

Even existing farms are finding prosperity an increasingly difficult crop to cultivate and those men not needed for agricultural chores are finding themselves forced into what they call public work — once scorned and long taboo.

Lancaster County in central Pennsylvania has a rich agricultural heritage, and its "plain people," the Amish, have won fame as growers.

Estimates within Lancaster's Amish community indicate anywhere from 10 per cent to nearly 50 per cent of the people are being forced from the fields.

Many, still hope to save enough from industry or construction to buy a 50-acre spread, but to realize their ambition they may have to move out of the area and seek pastures that are more expansive but less expensive.

While they abandon the earth, hopefully for just a short spell, many — and women are among them — still labor with their hands in reasonable facsimiles of the farm way of life.

They unload bags of grain at a feed mill, pound nails into houses, push pieces of wood, squeeze electric drills, sweep factory floors.

NFO Ships Grain Out

CINCINNATI (AP) — Thousands of bushels of soybeans, grown in Ohio, are being shipped to the Gulf of Mexico in a move by National Farmers Organization members to drive up grain prices.

The soybeans were hauled here Tuesday by a group of NFO members from Ohio. A caravan of trucks left Sandusky early Tuesday and other farmers joined in as it moved southward. The soybeans were taken to the Queen City Grain Co. and dumped into barges on the Ohio River.

NFO members in other states also prepared soybeans for shipment to the Gulf of Mexico. From there, the soybeans will be shipped into foreign countries.

John Walter, coordinator of the Ohio project and from Tiffin, said that the soybeans have already been sold for export.

Price levels on grain in the United States are now at 68 per cent parity, the lowest in 33 years, Walter said.

Fair Skies Prevalent

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair and pleasant weather was the rule in wide areas of the nation today, but a late-winter chill persisted in the Midwest.

Snow flurries dusted scattered sections from the middle Ohio Valley to northern New England. Light to moderate snow also sifted into parts of the Rockies. Two inches whitened Owyhee, Nev., before daybreak.

Arctic cold over the northern Great Lakes plunged temperatures near zero in northern Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota overnight.

Mild weather clung to the Eastern Seaboard, the South and Southwest.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from -3 at Marquette, Mich., to 74 at Key West, Fla.

8 Patients Die From Bacteria

DETROIT (AP) — During the last four months, eight patients at Henry Ford Hospital have died of blood infections as the result of receiving intravenous fluids contaminated with bacteria, federal officials report.

Another 52 persons at the hospital were infected but cured, said investigators from the federal Center for Disease Control—CDC—in Atlanta.

The CDC, which released its findings last weekend after three months of study, counted 150 cases of septicemia—blood poisoning—brought on by the contaminated fluids throughout the country. One death was recorded in addition to the eight here. Officials said they were uncertain why Ford hospital had so many cases.

GAO Softens Defense Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting office has substantially softened a report which criticized the Pentagon for encouraging inefficiency and high profits by defense contractors, the Washington Post reports.

The new version was written after the first draft was submitted to the Defense Department and five contractor trade associations for review. It contains data supplied by 154 weapons makers who were asked to report on their profits, the Post said Monday.

The revised document does not suppress the material from the first report but mutes its impact by suggesting no serious problem exists, the newspaper said.

Youth Faces Nixon Threat Indictment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Vietnam veteran who now is AWOL was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday on a charge of threatening to kill the President.

Glenn Scott South, 19, of Columbus is alleged to have written a letter mailed from San Francisco to Kerry Patesel of Columbus saying: "I'm gonna assassinate the President and anyone is his presence. It sounds like I'm joking, but I'm not."

In another case, five persons were charged with conspiring to break into the parcel post annex of the Steubenville, Ohio, Post Office in January, 1971, and to steal and transport U.S. property.

Named in the indictment on conspiracy counts were Franklin V. Tesack of Paris, Pa.; Joseph V. Truglio of Follansbee, W. Va.; Karen Sue Bonacci and Joseph A. Bonacci Jr. of Weirton, W. Va., and Willie N. Harris of Steubenville.

Tesack and Vincent also were charged with burglary, and causing damage in excess of $100.

Tesack, Truglio and Harris were charged with transporting postage stamps worth more than $100 and 555 postal money orders worth more than $5,000 from the scene.

Another indictment accused Frederick Douglas Fisher, Xenia, with falsifying a $100 American Express money order last October.

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

Cloudy skies and light snow flurries were general over the state through the night. Temperatures dropped into the 20s over all but a few locations along the Ohio River, where readings in the low 30s, were reported.

Snow flurries, though numerous, were light and gave little accumulation.

A weak high pressure area extends from Minnesota to the western Gulf of Mexico and is expected to cross Ohio late today.

It is followed by a low pressure center developing in Utah this morning. By late Thursday the low will be in mid Mississippi Valley.

Snow flurries were expected today. Cloudless skies will be the rule throughout the state tonight.

Cloud cover associated with the low will move over Ohio Thursday. Southerly winds in back of the ridge will send temperatures into the 40s and possibly lower 50s. By late Thursday showers developing ahead of the low will have reached southwestern Ohio.

FORECASTS
OHIO — Chance of snow flurries northeast today. Gradual clearing west and south. Highs in the 30s and lower 40s. Clear and cold tonight. Lows in the 20s. Increasing cloudiness and warmer Thursday with a chance of afternoon showers southwest. Highs Thursday in the 40s and lower 50s.

NORTHWEST INLAND — Clearing. Highs today in the lower and mid 30s. Clear and cold tonight. Lows 20 to 25. Increasing cloudiness and warmer Thursday. Highs in the mid to upper 40s.

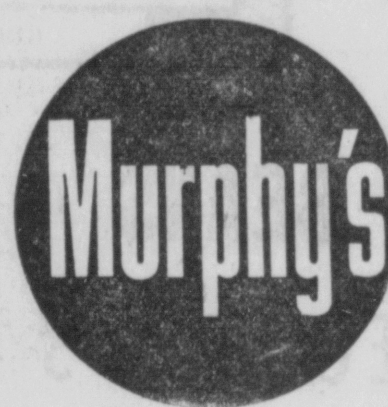

CENTRAL, SOUTHEAST — Clearing late this afternoon and tonight. Highs from the middle 30s to near 40. Lows tonight in the lower to middle 20s. Increasing cloudiness and warmer Thursday. Highs in the upper 40s and lower 50s.

Migrant Workers 'Saved' By Nixon

MIAMI (AP) — Nearly 1,200 jubilant Florida migrant workers held a candlelight procession and celebrated a Thanksgiving Mass after President Nixon declared South Florida a disaster area because of crop failures.

Many of the migrants had been among the crowd of 500 who went back to their shacks bitter and angry Sunday after waiting 20 hours near Nixon's Key Biscayne retreat near here in a vain effort to appeal personally to the President for help. But the President acted Monday.

About 15,000 South Florida field hands have been out of work since a January freeze destroyed a major portion of the area's vegetable crops.

TROUT a La Vin Rouge

This unusual and delicious recipe was recommended by one of our customers, who is a native of Canada. This "Homeland" recipe adds special appeal to Lenten meals.

- | | |
|-------------------------|------------------------------|
| 4 Rainbow Trout | 1 Carrot, chopped |
| Salt and Pepper | 2 Tablespoons Gaylord Butter |
| 1 Medium Onion, Chopped | Red Cooking Wine |
- Bone trout if desired.

Season trout inside and out with salt and pepper. In skillet that can be transferred to oven, or in a very heavy gauge baking pan, cook carrot and onion in butter until onion is transparent. Arrange trout on top of vegetables. Pour in enough wine to almost cover trout. Cook on top of the range for 10 minutes at medium heat. Cover and transfer to preheated hot oven (375 deg.) for 10 minutes. Serves 4.

Tricia Nixon To Marry Edward Cox On June 5

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ending the secret that nearly everyone has known for weeks, President Nixon has announced his daughter Tricia will marry Harvard law student Edward F. Cox in a White House ceremony June 5.

The President and Mrs. Nixon made the formal announcement Tuesday night at a party that was a three-way celebration—the First Lady's 59th birthday, St. Patrick's Day and, of course, the engagement of his 25-year-old daughter.

The announcement ended months of what had become nonsuspense.

The President took the leaking of the engagement in good humor. He prefaced the formal announcement by saying everything he has something important to say it gets out in advance and this was no exception.

But, taking the advice he said was given him by Irish Prime Minister John Lynch, the Tuesday evening guest of honor, Nixon said "It isn't official until I say it is."

Tricia, blonde, beaming and radiant in a low cut white silk dress glittering with tiny pearls, stepped into the spotlighted East Room stage hand-in-hand with her tall, handsome blond fiancé to take a bow with their parents.

Tricia will be the 15th bride married in the White House and the eighth presidential daughter to take her marriage vows in the executive mansion.

Her 24-year-old husband-to-be is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cox, a socially prominent couple who live in New York City and on Long Island. Cox's family dates back to Robert Livingston, the man who gave the oath of office to George Washington at the first presidential inauguration.

The formal announcement of the engagement followed 45 minutes of Irish-oriented entertainment and was greeted by a standing ovation by the 300 guests, described by Nixon as "very close friends from all over the United States."

TRICIA NIXON and Edward Cox are shown strolling along East End Avenue in New York, near the Cox home. She wears a belted pink frock with patch pockets.

West Virginia Budget Passes; $374.1 Million

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) —The 60th Legislature passed a record $374.1 million budget for the 1971-72 fiscal year late Tuesday and also attempted to avoid problems within the State Welfare Department that could result in a special session later this month.

Final adjournment came at 11:15 p.m.

House Speaker Lewis N. McManus, D-Raleigh, said that although the Welfare Department is said to need $7.5 million to continue its programs for the rest of the current fiscal year, only some $2 million is available in surplus funds which can be used by the department.

McManus said the budget bill contains language that will allow surplus funds which accrue—up to a $5.5 million limit—during the remainder of the fiscal year to go to the welfare department.

Gasco Employees Recognized For Safety Records

Two employees of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. from the Circleville area have been recognized for accumulating a total of 27 years of accident-free driving in company vehicles, according to R. George Claar, Columbus, safety manager for the gas company.

Claar said local award winners are among 2,342 employees of Ohio Fuel Gas and its associate companies — Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., and the Ohio Valley Gas Co. — who are being honored for a total of 22,591 years in company

Tax Credit Plan Proposed By Republican Rep. Byrnes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief House Republican tax spokesman proposed a tax plan today as a substitute for President Nixon's $5 billion federal revenue sharing plan.

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior GOP member of the Ways and Means Committee, said his plan, as contrasted with Nixon's would vehicles without an accident.

Local award winners and the number of years they have driven without an accident include: Raymond Arledge, 402 Cedar Heights Road, 25 years, and John Walker, 267 Sherwood Drive, 2 years, both of Circleville.

mean the difference "between dependent and independent local governments; between weak and strong local governments."

Byrnes, detailing his proposal in a speech prepared for a public affairs conference of the American Bankers Association, advocated encouraging states to make greater use of the income tax.

He would allow a taxpayer to credit directly against his federal tax liability 20 per cent of state and local income taxes paid. In addition, the taxpayer would be allowed, as he now is, to deduct the whole state income tax payment from income for federal tax purposes.

Under this plan, Byrnes said, a state in need of funds, instead of seeking aid from the federal government, could simply increase its own tax by 20 per cent.

Byrnes also proposed updating the federal credit for state taxes on estates so that 80 per cent of the tax on the first $150,000 would be offset, and 20 per cent of the tax thereafter.

The two changes, he said, would make more than $3 billion additional revenue available to states in the first year, more later.

Nixon's plan would allot $5 billion to the states with few conditions. Another $11 billion would be provided in six broad categories.

Byrnes said he has "serious doubts concerning the constitutionality of general revenue sharing as it is proposed."

2 Ohioans Awarded Hero Medals

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two Ohioans have been awarded bronze medals and $500 each by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission for making rescues involving extraordinary risks.

Roger Penwell, 23, of Columbus, was cited for capturing a man accused of planting bombs in a shopping center last August.

Penwell spotted William Harris, then an Air Force lieutenant, running with a gun in his hand from a department store shortly after a bomb exploded.

Despite a barrage of bullets, Penwell pursued Harris with his motorcycle, ran him down and disarmed him. The commission said Penwell "saved an indeterminate number of persons from the possibility of being shot."

The other Ohioan honored was Robert Turner, 32, of Cincinnati, for preventing what might have been a serious traffic collision in Cincinnati last May 15.

The citation said Daniel M. Welch, 51, suffered a heart attack while driving his car and slumped against the steering wheel as his car continued along a parkway.

Turner noted Welch's condition, pulled his car in front of the other vehicle and brought it to a stop from about 60 miles per hour by braking his own car. Welch died a short time later of the heart attack.

Nixon Popularity Hits New Low

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon's ability to "inspire confidence personally in the White House" has tumbled to a new low, according to the Harris Poll.

In a survey of 1,620 families between Feb. 22 and 27, there were 28 per cent who thought Nixon inspired confidence, pollster Louis Harris reported in the New York Post Monday.

That was off 8 per cent from the previous month and down 33 per cent from April 1969 three months after Nixon took office, when the same question was asked.

Another poll released Monday reported that Nixon topped all major Democratic contenders for the presidency in 1972. Opinion Research Corp. of Princeton, N.J., conducted the nationwide survey.

Capt. William D. Meyers has recently returned from Vietnam where he served a year at Bam Me Thout as commander of Detachment 1 of 1881 Communication Squadron. He was responsible for the operation of air traffic regulation center, maintenance of ground to air radios and adviser to the Vietnam Air Force in maintenance of a traetical air navigational aid.

On completion of his tour in Vietnam, Capt. Meyers was awarded the Bronze Star, Vietnamese Honor Medal first class, Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Capt. Meyers, his wife, Norma, and son Timothy, have moved to Fayetteville, N. C. for his next assignment as flight facilities officer at Bope Air Force Base.

2 Ohioans Awarded Hero Medals

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two Ohioans have been awarded bronze medals and $500 each by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission for making rescues involving extraordinary risks.

Roger Penwell, 23, of Columbus, was cited for capturing a man accused of planting bombs in a shopping center last August.

Penwell spotted William Harris, then an Air Force lieutenant, running with a gun in his hand from a department store shortly after a bomb exploded.

Despite a barrage of bullets, Penwell pursued Harris with his motorcycle, ran him down and disarmed him. The commission said Penwell "saved an indeterminate number of persons from the possibility of being shot."

The other Ohioan honored was Robert Turner, 32, of Cincinnati, for preventing what might have been a serious traffic collision in Cincinnati last May 15.

The citation said Daniel M. Welch, 51, suffered a heart attack while driving his car and slumped against the steering wheel as his car continued along a parkway.

Turner noted Welch's condition, pulled his car in front of the other vehicle and brought it to a stop from about 60 miles per hour by braking his own car. Welch died a short time later of the heart attack.

Nixon Popularity Hits New Low

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon's ability to "inspire confidence personally in the White House" has tumbled to a new low, according to the Harris Poll.

In a survey of 1,620 families between Feb. 22 and 27, there were 28 per cent who thought Nixon inspired confidence, pollster Louis Harris reported in the New York Post Monday.

That was off 8 per cent from the previous month and down 33 per cent from April 1969 three months after Nixon took office, when the same question was asked.

Another poll released Monday reported that Nixon topped all major Democratic contenders for the presidency in 1972. Opinion Research Corp. of Princeton, N.J., conducted the nationwide survey.

Data Shows U.S. Economy Not Living Up To Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP) — After hiding it for two straight months, the nation's economy has again displayed its sagging pace, setting back the Nixon administration's hopes of a quick recovery.

The Federal Reserve Board delivered the bad news to the administration Monday, reporting its key industrial production index fell four-tenths of 1 per cent in January.

The decline followed two consecutive monthly advances in factory output, when the economy rebounded from last fall's General Motors' strike.

But the snapback was not nearly as strong as the administration had hoped, and the February tumble in output showed Nixon has far to go in getting the economy moving again.

The drop disclosed continuing weakness in the economy, reluctance of big business to invest in more production and consumer hesitation to spend savings.

Nixon has pledged a good year for the economy in 1971 and has turned to deficit spending and easier money policies to make it go.

The slackness of the economy also partly explains the rapid decline in interest rates, with corporate demands for loans at a relatively low level with money plentiful.

Last fall, when the auto strike was in full swing, the administration forecast the economy would begin to turn up at the beginning of the year.

All the evidence won't be in until the government announces next month the total output of goods and services for January, February and March. But the drop in industrial production for February left little to cheer about for now.

Auto output did bounce back, increasing by 8 per cent last month and reaching an annual rate of about 9 million units.

Output of most home goods and consumer staples declined, along with commercial aircraft and industrial, commercial and defense equipment. Production of farm equipment and steel and construction materials gained, but output of other durable and nondurable materials was down.

The index stood at 164.8 per cent of the 1957-59 base year, 5.6 per cent below the July 1969 peak.

Nationwide Corp. Reports Earnings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Nationwide Corp. reported Tuesday that 1970 earnings totaled $7.6 million or 74 cents a share, up from $7.3 million or 72 cents a share in 1969.

Net income was $7.7 million or 75 cents per share, compared to $8 million or 78 cents per share in 1969. Capital gains declined from $650,000 in 1969 to $62,000 in 1970.

Views On TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — While the producers of the Oscar and the Emmy awards shows are trying to tidy up their long presentation programs, the Grammy people, for some reason, decided to adopt the awkward format—celebrity presenters, envelope-fumbling, thank-you speech and all.

The Grammy show, put on by the recording industry, passes out small golden replicas of old-fashioned phonographs to makers of the top records of the year. It has the advantage of being able to present top musical talent in hit numbers—and Tuesday night's 90-minute program on ABC was loaded with them.

There were almost a score of categories, from country to classical, with five or more nominees in each. The musical numbers went smoothly although the setting was garish, busy and distracting.

By the time the most important awards, including "record of the year," were reached the show was behind schedule. It was a breathless race with the clock to wind things up.

For the TV viewer, the old way of giving Grammy awards was better entertainment. Production numbers were taped in advance for all but the "record of the year" award, eliminating the presentations and the thank-yous which really are not much fun to watch.

CBS, announcing its fall schedule, says 13 programs have been dropped and 17 will return. Among seven new series to be introduced next September are a contemporary Western starring Glenn Ford, a comedy series with Dick Van Dyke and an action series with David Janssen. There will also be a couple of more action series and a couple of situation comedies. The Friday night movie will be 90-minute films made for TV.

CBS will drop the Jim Nabors show, Family Affair, Mayberry R.F.D., Beverly Hillsbillies, Hee Haw, the New Andy Griffith show, Green Acres, To Rome with Love, Men at Law, Hogan's Heroes, the Interns and, as previously announced, the Ed Sullivan show. Jackie Gleason, now seen in reruns of other years, has no place on the schedule.

Wilmington Group Sets Pentagon Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)— Meetings with Pentagon officials were scheduled today for a delegation of Wilmington, Ohio, residents trying to save Clinton County Air Force Base.

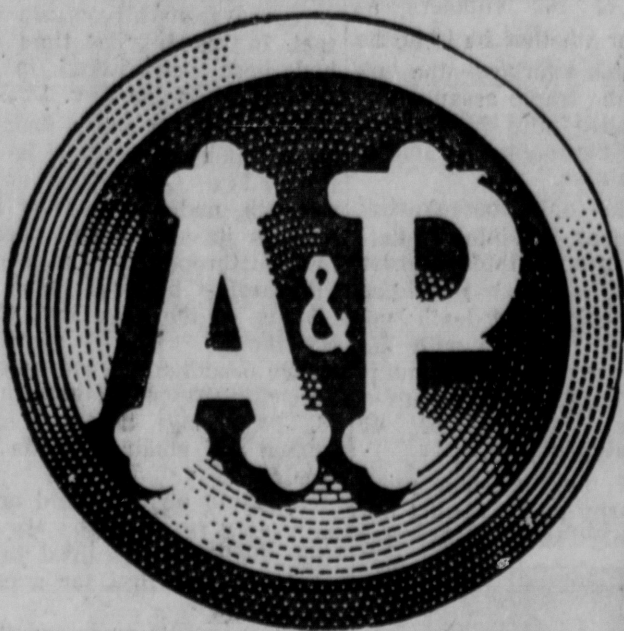

The group and Rep. Walter E. Powell, R-Ohio, were to meet first with Barry J. Shillito, assistant secretary of defense and later with Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird.

The Defense Department has announced plans to close the Clinton County facility by June 30. Fifty military men and 550 civilians work at the Air Force Reserve base for the Ohio Air National Guard.

Powell said closing the base would be an economic blow to the area. He said the delegation wanted to ask Pentagon officials what could be done to lessen the financial impact of the decision.

One possibility, Powell said, would be to keep the base open three more years to allow time to convert the facility to another use, either civilian or government.

Included in the delegation were Dale Minton, Wilmington mayor; State Sen. Max Dennis and Thomas Hunter, editor of the Wilmington News Journal.

The slackness of the economy also partly explains the rapid decline in interest rates, with corporate demands for loans at a relatively low level with money plentiful.

Last fall, when the auto strike was in full swing, the administration forecast the economy would begin to turn up at the beginning of the year.

All the evidence won't be in until the government announces next month the total output of goods and services for January, February and March. But the drop in industrial production for February left little to cheer about for now.

Auto output did bounce back, increasing by 8 per cent last month and reaching an annual rate of about 9 million units.

Output of most home goods and consumer staples declined, along with commercial aircraft and industrial, commercial and defense equipment. Production of farm equipment and steel and construction materials gained, but output of other durable and nondurable materials was down.

The index stood at 164.8 per cent of the 1957-59 base year, 5.6 per cent below the July 1969 peak.

Nationwide Corp. Reports Earnings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Nationwide Corp. reported Tuesday that 1970 earnings totaled $7.6 million or 74 cents a share, up from $7.3 million or 72 cents a share in 1969.

Net income was $7.7 million or 75 cents per share, compared to $8 million or 78 cents per share in 1969. Capital gains declined from $650,000 in 1969 to $62,000 in 1970.

NEW YORK (AP) — While the producers of the Oscar and the Emmy awards shows are trying to tidy up their long presentation programs, the Grammy people, for some reason, decided to adopt the awkward format—celebrity presenters, envelope-fumbling, thank-you speech and all.

The Grammy show, put on by the recording industry, passes out small golden replicas of old-fashioned phonographs to makers of the top records of the year. It has the advantage of being able to present top musical talent in hit numbers—and Tuesday night's 90-minute program on ABC was loaded with them.

There were almost a score of categories, from country to classical, with five or more nominees in each. The musical numbers went smoothly although the setting was garish, busy and distracting.

By the time the most important awards, including "record of the year," were reached the show was behind schedule. It was a breathless race with the clock to wind things up.

For the TV viewer, the old way of giving Grammy awards was better entertainment. Production numbers were taped in advance for all but the "record of the year" award, eliminating the presentations and the thank-yous which really are not much fun to watch.

CBS, announcing its fall schedule, says 13 programs have been dropped and 17 will return. Among seven new series to be introduced next September are a contemporary Western starring Glenn Ford, a comedy series with Dick Van Dyke and an action series with David Janssen. There will also be a couple of more action series and a couple of situation comedies. The Friday night movie will be 90-minute films made for TV.

CBS will drop the Jim Nabors show, Family Affair, Mayberry R.F.D., Beverly Hillsbillies, Hee Haw, the New Andy Griffith show, Green Acres, To Rome with Love, Men at Law, Hogan's Heroes, the Interns and, as previously announced, the Ed Sullivan show. Jackie Gleason, now seen in reruns of other years, has no place on the schedule.

Wilmington Group Sets Pentagon Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)— Meetings with Pentagon officials were scheduled today for a delegation of Wilmington, Ohio, residents trying to save Clinton County Air Force Base.

The group and Rep. Walter E. Powell, R-Ohio, were to meet first with Barry J. Shillito, assistant secretary of defense and later with Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird.

The Defense Department has announced plans to close the Clinton County facility by June 30. Fifty military men and 550 civilians work at the Air Force Reserve base for the Ohio Air National Guard.

Powell said closing the base would be an economic blow to the area. He said the delegation wanted to ask Pentagon officials what could be done to lessen the financial impact of the decision.

One possibility, Powell said, would be to keep the base open three more years to allow time to convert the facility to another use, either civilian or government.

Included in the delegation were Dale Minton, Wilmington mayor; State Sen. Max Dennis and Thomas Hunter, editor of the Wilmington News Journal.

A. P. Fitzgerald, chief conservation protection officer of Canada's Department of Fisheries, watches the skinning of a baby seal, and inspects another after the kill. The spot is in the Magdalen Islands, Grindstone, Quebec, on Canada's east coast.

245,000 CLUBBED TO DEATH—This cute little fellow is a baby seal, like one of the quota of 245,000 clubbed to death in this year's annual seal hunt on Canada's east coast. Last year 300,000 were killed that way. A club is used so the pelt will not be damaged. Conservationists and Humane Societies protest the annual clubbing, but sealers say the method is no worse than the method of killing cattle for food.

Strip Mine Reclamation Bill Backed By Ex-Mine Chief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A strip mine reclamation bill currently before the legislature would not place a great financial burden on coal operators, the House Environment and Natural Resources Committee was told Tuesday night.

John F. O'Leary of Washington, former director of the U.S. Bureau of Mines, said reclamation of gutted mine sites would cost operators only 18 to 20 cents a ton.

Based on state-supplied figures, O'Leary said it costs $1,000 to reclaim one acre of stripped Ohio land.

Sam Brock of West Virginia University's Center of Appalachia Studies and Development said mining firms realize generally more than a 100 per cent rate of return on their investments.

"The extra reclamation proposed in your new bill will not force such firms out of business," said Brock, who has conducted studies of surface mining operations in West Virginia since 1966.

"Nor will it have much impact on consumers," he said, "even if the higher costs are passed along to electric utilities and final users."

O'Leary and Brock were among a number of witnesses testifying in support of the bill proposing strict regulations on coal strip mining operations.

One measure is sponsored by House Minority Leader A. G. Lancione, D-30 Bellaire, and the other is co-sponsored by Reps. Walter H. Paul, R-83 Canfield, and William Batchelder, R-23 Medina.

The Lancione bill, which has bipartisan support plus administration backing, would require coal mine operators to return terrain to its natural state and require performance bonds to insure follow-through.

Lancione said his bill was asking only "that those who tear up the land be asked to restore it."

O'Leary said he thought the Ohio tactic was better than a West Virginia bill which would completely outlaw strip mining. He said coal industries were necessary, "but they must pay their cost. I think this is the central issue before us."

Committee Chairman Kenneth B. Creasy, R-18 Delaware, said another hearing will be held next Tuesday to hear more proponents of the measure. An additional session or two might be necessary, he said, before opponents can start presenting their cases.

Waste Treatment Grant Is Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency has awarded a $129,400 grant to the Miamisburg Conservancy District to build new sewers and a regional secondary waste water treatment plant at Franklin, Ohio.

Rep. Walter E. Powell, R-Ohio, said the money is in addition to a previous EPA grant of $606,900 for the facility.

Stevenson Cast As Husband In 'Generation'

STEVE STEVENSON

Steve Stevenson has the role of Walter Owen, the husband, in the Roundtown Players upcoming production of "Generation."

Walter can best be described by his father-in-law who classifies him as "an amateur folksinger, a amateur photographer, amateur carpenter, amateur poet, amateur necklace maker and wearer," and as "hippie honor scout." He is definitely anti-establishment and determined to do his own thing.

Steve's theater experience began in high school and college. He has contributed his talents to every aspect of the Roundtown Players including Reading Theater and Pumpkin Show skits. He has also appeared in "Splendor in the Grass" and "Absence of a Cello." Steve is a graduate of Ohio State University and works for the Allstate Insurance Company. He and his wife Mary Jo, live at 144 Montclair Avenue.

Army Officers Deliberate Calley Case In Isolation

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — In a spartan room, six Army officers sat today in judgment of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., accused of My Lai murders.

"Think back to the events of 15 and 16 March 1968," the jurors were admonished Tuesday by Judge Reid Kennedy, "You and you alone have the independent responsibility of deciding the ultimate issue as to the guilt or innocence of Lt. Calley."

Thus, after four months of testimony, the fate of My Lai's most publicized figure was entrusted to men who have tasted battle and know the agonies of command.

They must weigh whether Calley is guilty of executing all or any of 102 villagers as charged or whether he is in the words of his attorney—the "pigeon" of the tragic assault. The lawyer called him "The lowest officer on the totem pole in this whole business."

Available to the court-martial jury are four possible verdicts on count: premeditated murder carrying a sentence of either life imprisonment or death; unpremeditated murder with life imprisonment the maximum; voluntary manslaughter with a maximum sentence of 10 years; and acquittal.

Four of the six men must concur in any guilty verdict under military law. Then they would retire again to fix a sentence.

The jurors were assigned separate quarters Monday at the start of final arguments, screened from all outside contact. It was the first time they had been sequestered in the trial which began Nov. 12.

Calley was 24 and a fledgling second lieutenant when he led Charlie Company's understrength, under-trained 1st Platoon on its search and destroy mission through My Lai, one of the hamlets believed to be the bastion of the 48th Viet Cong Battalion.

The assault force encountered no enemy troops on that March 16, 1968, only the old men, women and children of the village.

Of the 10 men charged originally as a result of the My Lai raid, Calley is the third to be tried—and the first for a capital offense.

Two sergeants were acquitted after brief courts-martial and charges were dropped in the cases of five remaining enlisted men.

Capt. Ernest Medina, Calley's company commander and the man the lieutenant says gave the order to kill civilians, is to be tried soon, charged with over-all responsibility for My Lai.

Ohio Corn Planting Prediction Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio farmers intend to plant 3,539,000 acres of corn this year, a nine per cent increase over 1970, the Agriculture Department said Tuesday.

The Crop Reporting Board reported the annual March 1 survey showed Ohio soybean plantings will jump eight per cent to 603,000 acres.

LT. WILLIAM L. Calley is shown at Ft. Benning, Ga., during progress of his court-martial in the My Lai massacre.

Baldasarros Off Free

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Municipal Court Judge James A. Pearson ruled Tuesday that all evidence gathered in Dec. 17 numbers racket raids on four Baldasarro family homes be suppressed because police had used invalid search warrants.

City Prosecutor Thomas Er-lenbach said charges would be dropped against Marie Baldasarro, 45; Flice Baldasarro, 23, Marie's nephew, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Diana. Mrs. Diana is Marie's sister.

The four were charged with numbers violations when money and slips were found in the homes during the 5 a.m. vice squad raids.

But search warrants issued police were good only in Columbus, and the four homes were outside the city.

Police also raided the home of Frank Baldasarro, 46, Marie's brother, and Mrs. Rosnell Susi, her sister, but no evidence was found in either house.

Essex Praises Gilligan Plans For School Aid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State School Supt. Martin W. Essex said today that Gov. John J. Gilligan's educational recommendations would provide a "giant leap forward in the attainment of an improved level of state support for Ohio schools."

If enacted by the legislature, the budget proposals also would provide greater equalization of financial resources among school districts, an expansion of services for youngsters with special needs and property tax relief, Essex said in a statement.

Legal-Services Program Pushed In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to establish an independent, nonprofit legal-services program for the poor will be introduced in Congress Thursday with bipartisan support.

The measure would establish the "National Corporation for Legal Services," a private government-financed agency to take over the program which now is run by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

It calls for an 18-member board of governors to run the agency. Six members would be publicly appointed — five by the President and one by the Judicial Conference.

Six representatives would come from professional organizations such as the American Bar Association. Two new agencies — the National Clients Council and the Legal Services Organization — each would name three governors.

Essex Praises Gilligan Plans For School Aid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State School Supt. Martin W. Essex said today that Gov. John J. Gilligan's educational recommendations would provide a "giant leap forward in the attainment of an improved level of state support for Ohio schools."

If enacted by the legislature, the budget proposals also would provide greater equalization of financial resources among school districts, an expansion of services for youngsters with special needs and property tax relief, Essex said in a statement.

Westfall...

Students in grades 1 to 5 will be bussed to Jackson. Jackson junior high classes there will be held in empty classrooms at Westfall. Williamsport's two sixth grade classes will be transferred to Monroe. Mrs. Hulse's will be held in an available room there and Mr. Hundley's will combine with another sixth grade.

Under this system, the board hopes to operate the busing on nearly the same time schedule.

Superintendent Donald Shearer, who presided over the meeting of some 150 Williamsport area citizens, announced the calendar for the school closing.

Final day of classes in the building has been planned for Mar. 26. The school will use the remaining two days before the deadline to transfer equipment and supplies to the other buildings and classes will resume for the youngsters on Wednesday, Mar. 31.

Shearer noted that the board could not take immediate action to repair the building before the deadline. Under state law, any contract over $4,000 must be bid with publication at least four weeks in a newspaper. Time must also be allotted for the board to get some definite figures on repair costs.

THE superintendent also noted that no extension would be offered by the government office on their deadline.

Due to the type of work, Shearer noted, there are no

federal or state funds he knows available. He said no repairs would begin until the plans were approved by the fire marshal's office to prevent the building from being closed after all the money was invested.

During the meeting, board members revealed their thoughts on constructing two new elementary buildings, with 45 educational units, to eventually replace all the old schools. One is proposed for the district's northern section and one in the southern.

Obviously an unpleasant thought to the landowners who must pay the cost of the new buildings, those assembled debated the value of putting large amounts of money into the refurbishing of Williamsport. Since September, nearly $4,900 has been spent in heating the building, getting water out of the basement, repairing the coal furnace and other work.

Mrs. Shirley Bowsher urged support of the new buildings. A board member for eight years, Mrs. Bowsher claimed that eventually the schools must be built, if only to help carry the increased enrollment in the northern section. Some citizens showed support of her plan, but questioned where the money would come for their operation after being built.

A final decision on what action will be taken is pending. The board hopes to have figures on repairs by its April 19 meeting. At that time the question to build or restore will be answered.

Saigon Units

They're hitting it around the clock."

"Normally the South Vietnamese don't like us to fire on enemy positions too close to them," said Few. "This time they ordered us to fire Fleschette rockets right on their bunkers. There were North Vietnamese all over that place."

Fleschette rockets are loaded with thousands of tiny nail-like metal particles which spray out on impact.

A stream of helicopters brought loads of dead and wounded today to the 1st Infantry Division's hospital at Ham Nghi. Newsmen counted 85 wounded, and the pilots said many were "simply left behind."

Two helicopter gunships were shot down at Lolo Tuesday while attempting to evacuate casualties. A third was reported shot down today, but its crew was rescued uninjured.

"We had to give it up," said Russell Conley of Pocatello, Idaho. "We were just picking up dead and there was too much incoming fire. The wounded were already running."

The pilots said every South Vietnamese base in Laos is surrounded by a variety of enemy anti-aircraft guns.

Newsmen who tried to go into Laos today were told they couldn't land anywhere because "it's too hot."

Field reports said one South Vietnamese unit that fled from Fire Base Lolo to Landing Zone Brown had 20 troops killed, including the commander and his deputy, and 70 wounded.

Hovey In Hot Seat Over Gilligan Tax Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Finance Director Harold Hovey was the Democrats' man on the hot seat as the House Finance Appropriations Committee continued today to dig into the Gilligan administration's $9.1 billion two-year budget.

Hovey was due back before the Republican-dominated committee as it began a second day of study of a budget that could cost Ohioans an additional $1.6 billion.

The bill, putting into legal terms what Gov. John J. Gilligan outlined in his budget speech Monday night, was introduced into the Ohio House Tuesday afternoon.

Rep. James Flannery, D-48 Cleveland, was the bill's main sponsor. House Minority Leader A. G. Lancione, D-30 Bellaire, reportedly declined to be the leadoff sponsor, but joined 16 other Democrats as co-sponsors.

At least one Democrat, Rep. Harry J. Lehman, D-58 Shaker Heights, said he was asked to be a co-sponsor, but declined. He said he objected to Gilligan's proposal to change the school foundation formula.

Hovey first appeared in defense of the budget Tuesday. Republicans questioned him sharply about an administration proposal to require graduates of state universities repay their $3,000 state subsidy.

Under the plan, graduates would pay back a minimum $50 a year upon reaching an annual income of $7,000. Graduate students would run up a debt of an additional $1,950 a year they would have to repay.

bers, including House Floor Leader Robert E. Levitt, R-91 Canton, questioned whether cost of collection would be worth the amount it would raise.

Gilligan's appropriation-tax plan, which proposes spending $2.9 billion over the $6.2 billion allocated for the current biennium, was put into one bill for introduction.

It calls for a one to eight per cent graduated personal income tax and a tax on corporation profits — four per cent for those making less than $10,000 annually and eight per cent on profits above that level.

Many legislators, Democrats included, contend the governor's budget message was misleading in that he hinged all increases in spending on the amount above the projection of former Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes, as required by law, estimated in a mythical budget before leaving office that it would cost $7,021 billion for state operations over the next two years without new taxes.

Sen. Robin Turner, R-14 Marion, said Rhodes' figures were only a projection. "The budget we're on now that expires June 30 is $6.2 billion," he said. "Any increases to be accurate would have to use that budget as a basis."

Some Republicans predicted a rough course for the budget in the General Assembly.

"When the legislature gets through with this it will be so cut up even Gilligan funeral homes won't be able to handle it," said Rep. Robert E. Netzel, R-7 Laura, vice chairman of the House Finance Appropriations committee.

Gilligan's father operates a chain of Cincinnati funeral homes.

"I've read this budget and read about it and reread it, and I still don't understand it," said Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati.

Maloney is assistant GOP floor leader in the Senate and chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee, first stop for the bill after it leaves the House.

Gilligan Asks Backing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan asked Ohio businessmen Tuesday night to support his service and revenue plans.

He told the Ohio Chamber of Commerce he believes businessmen will recognize the need for the proposals contained in his $9.1 billion budget.

Gilligan said his revenue plan, calling for taxes on corporation profits and individual income, coupled with property tax rollbacks, would allow the state to make needed improvements and transfer additional costs onto those best able to pay for them.

He said a healthy business climate is essential to the success of his programs.

"Unless this state's business and industries are thriving, our programs don't have a chance of being successful," Gilligan said.

sponsor the administrative package, said Gilligan's proposal to change the school foundation formula would punish all schools within this district.

Under the proposal, the complicated formula would be discarded in favor of a $680 per pupil subsidy to school districts that either roll back or increase their taxing rates to 25 mills. Gilligan said it would provide the same support for rich as well as poor districts.

In other legislative business Tuesday, Sen. Ronald L. Mottl, D-24 Parma, sponsored a measure in the Senate that would require employable aid to dependent children and poor relief recipient to work.

Mottl's bill would include employable children 16 or over and welfare recipients not participating in approved educational or vocational training programs.

Sen. Robert Stockdale, R-31 Kent, offered a resolution urging that the U.S. Department of Transportation locate its proposed national transportation center at the Ohio Transportation Center near East Liberty.

The House, during floor action, passed two bills and sent them to the Senate.

One would eliminate the requirement that county commissioners get approval from common pleas courts before buying motor vehicles. The other would extend from 120 to 180 days the time a farmer would have to file for a vehicle fuel tax refund on bulk gasoline purchases.

Among bills introduced Tuesday were ones that would:

—Abolish the State Board of Housing and enable the Housing Development Board to issue bonds.

—Require the state to provide hospitalization for all state employees and their families.

—Permit county school boards to hire outside legal counsel.

—Permit highway patrolmen to make non-traffic arrests without warrants if there is reason to believe a violation has occurred.

—Permit county commissioners to establish a department of health to replace general health districts.

Gilligan In Dublin For Irish Holiday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan began St. Patrick's Day, appropriately enough with a trip to Dublin.

The governor dedicated a new library branch in the Columbus suburb before going to Cleveland to take part in the St. Patrick's Day parade and then to Cincinnati for observances by the Ancient Order of Hibernians and the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

Students in grades 1 to 5 will be bussed to Jackson. Jackson junior high classes there will be held in empty classrooms at Westfall. Williamsport's two sixth grade classes will be transferred to Monroe. Mrs. Hulse's will be held in an available room there and Mr. Hundley's will combine with another sixth grade.

Under this system, the board hopes to operate the busing on nearly the same time schedule.

Superintendent Donald Shearer, who presided over the meeting of some 150 Williamsport area citizens, announced the calendar for the school closing.

Final day of classes in the building has been planned for Mar. 26. The school will use the remaining two days before the deadline to transfer equipment and supplies to the other buildings and classes will resume for the youngsters on Wednesday, Mar. 31.

Shearer noted that the board could not take immediate action to repair the building before the deadline. Under state law, any contract over $4,000 must be bid with publication at least four weeks in a newspaper. Time must also be allotted for the board to get some definite figures on repair costs.

THE superintendent also noted that no extension would be offered by the government office on their deadline.

Due to the type of work, Shearer noted, there are no

federal or state funds he knows available. He said no repairs would begin until the plans were approved by the fire marshal's office to prevent the building from being closed after all the money was invested.

During the meeting, board members revealed their thoughts on constructing two new elementary buildings, with 45 educational units, to eventually replace all the old schools. One is proposed for the district's northern section and one in the southern.

Obviously an unpleasant thought to the landowners who must pay the cost of the new buildings, those assembled debated the value of putting large amounts of money into the refurbishing of Williamsport. Since September, nearly $4,900 has been spent in heating the building, getting water out of the basement, repairing the coal furnace and other work.

Mrs. Shirley Bowsher urged support of the new buildings. A board member for eight years, Mrs. Bowsher claimed that eventually the schools must be built, if only to help carry the increased enrollment in the northern section. Some citizens showed support of her plan, but questioned where the money would come for their operation after being built.

A final decision on what action will be taken is pending. The board hopes to have figures on repairs by its April 19 meeting. At that time the question to build or restore will be answered.

Southeast District Cage Stars Selected

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Charles McAfee, the veteran Al-mentor, was named Southeastern District Class AAA basketball coach of the year and Mike Rouse of Jackson No. 1 Class AAA area player Tuesday by The Associated Press.

Roger Weaver, 6-foot senior, from Laurelville has been named to the Southeastern District Class A second team. Weaver averaged 19 points a game and sparked the Wildcats to a 16-6 season record.

A district board of sports writers and broadcasters made the selection for the AP. Class AA district coach of the year was C. D. Hawhee and the player of the year Phil Miller, both from Waverly. In Class A, area coaching honors went to Henderson (Hecky) Thompson of Pike Western and his star player, Roger Smith. Rouse is a 6-foot-5 senior who averaged 22 points a game for the Ironmen. Miller, a 6-3 senior, carried a 18-point average for Waverly and Smith, a 6-foot senior, 29.6 points for Pike Western.

CLASS AAA
Joining Rouse on the first Class AAA squad were Dave Miller, 6-4 Lancaster senior, 17.1 points; Mark Swart, 6-3 Athens senior, 15.6; Mike Lovenguth, 6-4 Portsmouth junior, 17.0 points, and Mark Shaw, 6-5 Logan senior, 26.3.

Second team Class AAA choices were Dale Thompson, 5-11 Chillicothe senior, 18.0; Bob Pishko, 6-5 Marietta senior, 13.0; Fred Myers, 6-2 Portsmouth senior, 15.0; Gary Martin, 6-5½ Jackson senior, 19.0, and Alex Couladis, 6-2 Athens senior, 18.2.

CLASS AA
First team Class AA selections with Miller were Rick Eblin, 6-5 Waverly senior, 23.1; Randy Rankin, 6-7 Minford senior, 21.2; Chuck Robinson, 6-1 Federal - Hocking senior, 25.0, and Lance Redman, 5-11 South Point junior, 19.0.

Second in Class AA were Charlie Kitchen, 6-3 Linton senior, 18.0; Fred Hall, 6-3 Portsmouth West senior, 21.7; Randy Ratcliff, 6-1 Wellston senior, 17.0; Jim Morrison, 6-3 Wheelersburg senior, 19.0, and John Skaggs, 6-3 Ross Southeastern senior, 17.5.

CLASS A
Joining Smith on the Class A first unit were Willy Mays, 6-4 Proctorville Fairland senior, 18.0; Dave Poling, 6-5 Union Furnace Starr - Washington senior, 24.1; Gary Swinehart, 6-4 Crooksville senior, 25.0; and Joe Ward, 6-4 Piketon senior, 26.9. Second team area Class A picks were Doug Davis, 5-10 Pike Eastern junior, 17.0; Dennis Eichinger, 6-3, Meigs Eastern junior, 19-7; Arthur Clark, 6-5 North Gallia, junior, 22.3; Roger Weaver, 6-foot Laurelville senior 19.0 and Dwight Garrett, Frankfort Adena senior, 21.0.

Big - Name Pitchers Work For Start Of Regular Season

The big-name pitchers are rapidly getting in shape for the start of the baseball season. Phil Niekro hurled five good innings Tuesday. Mike Cuellar went seven ... and Choji Murata went nine.

Choji Murata pitches for Japan's Lotte Orions and he stifled the California Angels 7-2 on seven hits, including Tony Conigliaro's first home run. Murata walked four and fanned eight.

Niekro, whose knuckleball didn't knuckle down to business last year, yielded only one hit during his stint as the Atlanta Braves whipped the Minnesota Twins 5-2.

Baltimore's Cuellar, off a lackadaisical winter campaign, was in world championship form, blanking the Los Angeles Dodgers for seven innings in a 3-0 Oriole victory. Tom Dukes finished up and Frank Robinson belted a mammoth home run.

Japan's other touring team, the Tokyo Giants, lost to Pittsburgh 6-2 when the Pirates scored four times in the eighth inning. Gene Clines had four hits for the Bucs.

Rookie Bill Bonham and veteran Bill Hands combined for a one-hitter—a single by Rafael Robles in the fifth—and the Chicago Cubs edged the San Diego Padres 2-1 on Jose Ortiz' ninth-inning RBI triple, and Huston Astros also got strong pitching. Tom Bradley and two rookies stopped the New York Yankees 8-0 on four hits as the clubs began a two-game visit to Venezuela. It was New York's eighth consecutive setback.

Sore-armed Don Wilson worked five scoreless innings and Houston downed Philadelphia 4-1.

Cleveland outlasted Oakland 10-7 in another game featuring the experimental three-ball walk. There was a total of 23 walks.

The Detroit Tigers trounced the New York Mets 10-4 behind

a six-run outburst in the fifth, capped by Mickey Stanley's grand slam. Jose Cardenal's grand slam was one of three St. Louis homers—Ted Simmons and Joe Torre hit the others—in the Cardinals' 10-7 triumph over Cincinnati.

Washington got home runs from Mike Epstein and Frank Howard, the first for each, and shaded Boston 5-4 with a run in the ninth. San Francisco nipped Milwaukee 6-5 on George Foster's 10th-inning sacrifice fly.

The Montreal Expos stole the go-ahead run in the top of the ninth when Jim Fahey and Garry Sutherland pulled a double steal and downed Kansas City 6-4.

Canton McKinley Reaches 'Sweet 16' Tourney Play

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Is this the year Canton McKinley High School wins its first state basketball tournament title?

The Canton school has reached the "Sweet Sixteen" in its class eliminations 17 previous times, yet never has won the state championship.

Regional tournament action begins tonight with Canton McKinley, a five-time loser during the regular season, clashing with third-ranked Boardman (22-0) in the Canton Auditorium in a Class AAA pairing.

There are only three other regional games tonight, two of them in Class AAA.

In other Class AAA contests, Cleveland St. Ignatius (21-1) faces Cleveland East Tech (19-2) in the Canton Fieldhouse and eighth-ranked Celina (21-1) goes against Whitehall (16-6) in the Columbus State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

In Class AA, Warren Champion (19-3) and Elyria Catholic (17-5) in the Copley regional. There are no Class A games tonight.

Coach Bob Rupert calls his Canton McKinley squad the best-balanced team he's had in his 10 years there, even if the Bulldogs were only 13-5 in the regular season.

"It was the toughest schedule we've ever played. This team has more balance than the one two years ago," Rupert said. All-Ohio Nick Weatherspoon led the 1969 Bulldogs.

Canton McKinley has been a state tournament runnerup seven times, in 1928, 1930, 1931, 1940, 1943, 1956 and 1969. The Bulldogs reached the state semi-finals on six other occasions.

Harmon Killebrew, Oliva and Tovar, they batted .262, tops in the league, and finished nine lengths ahead of second-place Oakland in the West Division race.

The A's and California Angels figure to put up a stronger fight this year, however, and Rigney feels he will need more pitching depth than last year to stay on top.

The 1970 yeomen were Jim Perry, the AL Cy Young Award winner; Dutch-born teen-ager Bert Blyleven, left-handers Tom "The Blade" Hall and Jim Kaat, relief artists Ron Perranoski and Stan Williams, and Zepp.

Perry, 24-12, Blyleven, 10-9, and Kaat, 14-10, are likely starters. Hall, a 150-pounder who was 11-6 with 184 strikeouts, could go as a starter or reliever. Tiant, 7-3, and Boswell, 3-7 are the question marks.

Perranoski, who set a league mark of 34 saves, and Williams, 0-1 with 15 saves, are solid stoppers. Sal Campisi, picked up from St. Louis in the

Nicks Smash L.A. Lakers, Win 115-82

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The lights dimmed in New York and got brighter for Atlanta and Chicago.

While New York tolerated another power failure—this one confined to the game between Los Angeles and the Knicks at Madison Square Garden—Atlanta's Hawks and Chicago's Bulls brightened their chances for National Basketball Association playoff berths.

The Knicks demolished the Lakers, 115-82, Atlanta overhauled Philadelphia 130-125 and Chicago outran Baltimore 113-99 Tuesday night.

In other NBA action Cleveland upset San Francisco 108-103, Cincinnati held off Buffalo 113-102 and Milwaukee belted Phoenix 119-111.

In the American Basketball Association Indiana pounded Pittsburgh 130-119, Kentucky bombed New York 122-104 and Memphis mauled Denver 127-118.

The Knicks were leading 71-58 late in the third period when most of the lights—along with the scoreboard, clocks and public address system—went on the blink.

"Let's hide the ball off the court," Los Angeles center Wilt Chamberlain joked as the fourth quarter began with New York 80-63. "Then they won't be able to find it either."

It might not have been a bad idea. Moments later the Knicks reeled off 11 straight points to finish off the Lakers. Walt Frazier topped New York with 22 points. Willie McCarter had 19 for the losers.

Atlanta, runner-up in the Central Division, retained its 1½-game edge over Cincinnati in its playoff race. The Hawks trailed Philadelphia by 18 points but Lou Hudson and Pete Maravich combined for 30 fourth-quarter points to turn the tide. Hudson finished with 43.

Pitching Still Plagues Cincy Reds

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds apparently have not hurdled their pitching problems, contrary to what they had thought.

The Reds said Tuesday that lefthander Jim Merritt, bothered by a sore arm late in 1970, was unable to loosen up properly for a test and it is doubtful whether he will be in shape for the coming season.

"I'd say the signs are that he won't be ready," Manager Sparky Anderson said about Merritt who won 20 games last year. "He recovers quickly, though, so we'll have to wait and see."

Team physicians had said that Merritt had recovered from the ailment.

Anderson also said that "it looks like we're going to leave him (Don Gullett) in the bullpen. He's not going to be a starter until he shows me he can get his breaking ball over consistently. So far he hasn't shown me."

Gullett was outstanding in relief roles last year as a rookie, and he and Merritt, and Gary Nolan, Wayne Simpson and Jim McGlothlin had been figured by Anderson to comprise the starting rotation.

Simpson also was sidelined by arm trouble last year but he has pitched this spring and appears to be healed.

Pitching proved to be a major downfall for the Reds in the World Series against Baltimore.

Twins' lone off-season deal, might make it in the bullpen, too.

Rigney is heartened by the imminent return to form of Carew, who was batting .376 last June when he injured his knee in a sliding mishap. "When you lose Carew for 110 games, you're losing a run a game," he says.

Center fielder Tovar hit .300. He could switch to left if Paul Ray Powell, a gifted glove man, hits enough to make the jump from the minors. Otherwise, Tovar probably will stay in center, with Brant Aleya, .291, 16 homers, and Jim Holt, .286, again platooning in left.

Rich Reese, who fell from .320 in 1970 to .261 last year, returns at first. Cardenas, .247 is the incumbent shortstop. George Mitterwald, .222, and Paul Ratliff, .268, will handle the catching.

In the National Collegiate Athletic Association Basketball Tournament, UCLA is THE show. But the Bruins might be in for a surprise Thursday night when they play Brigham Young with its 6-foot-11 Yugoslavian center, Kresimir Cosic.

BYU, 19-9, has the distinction of being the first team to get a crack at beating No. 1 UCLA, 25-1, in the tournament in the Western Regional semifinals.

Cosic acts more like a guard than a center with his 30-foot set shots, leading on fast breaks, and behind-the-back and between-the-legs passes.

There is an emotional side of Cosic which springs to the surface on the basketball court. He smiles, grimaces, hugs his teammates, suffers and gloats. Cosic was on the 1968 Yugoslavian Olympic team and the 1969 World Games champion-ship team. This season he carried a 15-point average and a 12.2 rebound average for the No. 20 Cougars.

Jim Snyder, Ohio University basketball coach, will be the main speaker at the Circleville High School winter sports banquet 6 p.m. Monday in the high school cafeteria.

JIM SNYDER

Circleville's South Central Ohio League championship basketball team and wrestling squad as well as the cheerleaders will be given well deserved recognition.

The personable Snyder, dean of Mid-American Conference coaches in terms of service, heads into his 22nd year at Ohio University with a 291-209 record and five MAC titles to his credit.

Numerous honors have been bestowed on Snyder, including Ohio college coach of the year in 1961 and 1970. Last year he was also selected MAC and NCAA District Four coach of the year.

A former All-Ohio basketball player at Canton McKinley High School in 1937, Snyder played on OU's 1940-41 cage team which was runnerup in the National Invitational Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

It broke a record set by Gabby Street many years before who caught a ball tossed from the top of the Washington monument, in the capital, 550 feet high.

Midwest Cage Powers Open Clash

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Dean Meminger of Marquette and Jim McDaniels of Western Kentucky head the cast of individual stars in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's power-packed Midwest Regional basketball tournament which begins Thursday night.

Each of the four teams competing for a berth in next week's NCAA finals at Houston's Astrodome was ranked among the nation's top ten in the final Associated Press poll.

Meminger, an excellent playmaker, averaged 21 points per game in leading the Warriors, ranked second in the nation, through an undefeated regular season and 62-47 triumph over Miami of Ohio in the Midwest first round last week.

Marquette, 27-0 this year and winner of 39 straight, faces Big Ten champion Ohio State in the regional opener at 7:05 p.m. EST. Southeastern Conference champ Kentucky battles Western Kentucky in the second game at 9:05 p.m. in the first meeting ever between the two Kentucky schools rich in basketball tradition.

Western is ranked No. 7, Kentucky eighth and Ohio State 10th.

Twins Hampered By Players Ills

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The agony of past October lingers on for the Minnesota Twins—and they've had a couple of headaches this spring, too.

Minnesota, blasted out of the first two American League pennant playoffs in successive three-game Baltimore sweeps, is getting ready to make another run for the money. But the Twins' spring training getaway has been slowed by a series of ailments, holdouts and defections.

"It has to hurt when it happens to you twice in a row," says Manager Bill Rigney, who took it on the chin from the Orioles last fall, as had his predecessor, Billy Martin, the previous year. "But we're still facing the same thing, regardless of what happened."

The Twins appear to have the personnel for another successful title defense in the AL West—if they don't run into more of the obstructions that have marked their spring maneuvers.

Rod Carew, the swift, hot-hitting second baseman who was out for most of last season with a mangled knee, showed up early in camp but missed the first week of exhibition play because of 10 abscessed teeth.

Luis Tiant and Dave Boswell, former 20-game winners who won just 10 between them in 1970 because of shoulder and back ailments, were slow working their way into competitive shape. Camilo Pascual, another onetime pitching ace, came to camp on a trial basis, impressed Rigney in his first outing—and then disappeared without a goodbye.

Bill Zepp, who picked up some of the pitching slack last season with nine victories as a rookie, refused to report and asked the Twins to trade him to Detroit. Outfielder Tony Oliva and Cesar Tovar held out for pay hikes and shortstop Leo Cardenas was missing for a week.

If Rigney gets them all together, the Twins should again produce plenty of runs. Led by

Harmon Killebrew, Oliva and Tovar, they batted .262, tops in the league, and finished nine lengths ahead of second-place Oakland in the West Division race.

The A's and California Angels figure to put up a stronger fight this year, however, and Rigney feels he will need more pitching depth than last year to stay on top.

The 1970 yeomen were Jim Perry, the AL Cy Young Award winner; Dutch-born teen-ager Bert Blyleven, left-handers Tom "The Blade" Hall and Jim Kaat, relief artists Ron Perranoski and Stan Williams, and Zepp.

Perry, 24-12, Blyleven, 10-9, and Kaat, 14-10, are likely starters. Hall, a 150-pounder who was 11-6 with 184 strikeouts, could go as a starter or reliever. Tiant, 7-3, and Boswell, 3-7 are the question marks.

Perranoski, who set a league mark of 34 saves, and Williams, 0-1 with 15 saves, are solid stoppers. Sal Campisi, picked up from St. Louis in the Twins' lone off-season deal, might make it in the bullpen, too.

Rigney is heartened by the imminent return to form of Carew, who was batting .376 last June when he injured his knee in a sliding mishap. "When you lose Carew for 110 games, you're losing a run a game," he says.

Third baseman Killebrew batted .271 swatted 41 homers and knocked in 113 runs last year. Right fielder Oliva had his best season with 23 homers and 107 RBI.

Center fielder Tovar hit .300. He could switch to left if Paul Ray Powell, a gifted glove man, hits enough to make the jump from the minors. Otherwise, Tovar probably will stay in center, with Brant Aleya, .291, 16 homers, and Jim Holt, .286, again platooning in left.

Rich Reese, who fell from .320 in 1970 to .261 last year, returns at first. Cardenas, .247 is the incumbent shortstop. George Mitterwald, .222, and Paul Ratliff, .268, will handle the catching.

Southeast District Cage Stars Selected

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Charles McAfee, the veteran Al-ans mentor, was named Southeastern District Class AAA basketball coach of the year and Mike Rouse of Jackson No. 1 Class AAA area player Tuesday by The Associated Press.

Roger Weaver, 6-foot senior, from Laurelville has been named to the Southeastern District Class A second team. Weaver averaged 19 points a game and sparked the Wildcats to a 16-6 season record.

A district board of sports writers and broadcasters made the selection for the AP. Class AA district coach of the year was C. D. Hawhee, the player of the year Phil Miller, both from Waverly. In Class A, area coaching honors went to Henderson (Hecky) Thompson of Pike Western and his star player, Roger Smith. Rouse is a 6-foot-5 senior who averaged 22 points a game for the Ironmen. Miller, a 6-3 senior, carried a 18-point average for Waverly and Smith, a 6-foot senior, 29.6 points for Pike Western.

CLASS AAA
Joining Rouse on the first Class AAA squad were Dave Miller, 6-4 Lancaster senior, 17.1 points; Mark Swart, 6-3 Athens senior, 15.6; Mike Lovenguth, 6-4 Portsmouth junior, 17.0 points, and Mark Shaw, 6-5 Logan senior, 26.3.

Second team Class AAA choices were Dale Thompson, 5-11 Chillicothe senior, 18.0; Bob Pishko, 6-5 Marietta senior, 13.0; Fred Myers, 6-2 Portsmouth senior, 15.0; Gary Martin, 6-5 Jackson senior, 19.0, and Alex Couladis, 6-2 Athens senior, 18.2.

CLASS AA
First team Class AA selections with Miller were Rick Eblin, 6-5 Waverly senior, 23.1; Randy Rankin, 6-7 Minford senior, 21.2; Chuck Robinson, 6-1 Federal - Hocking senior, 25.0, and Lance Redman, 5-11 South Point junior, 19.0.

Second in Class AA were Charlie Kitchen, 6-3 Ionton senior, 18.0; Fred Hall, 6-3 Portsmouth West senior, 21.7; Randy Ratcliff, 6-1 Wellston senior, 17.0; Jim Morrison, 6-3 Wheelersburg senior, 19.0, and John Skaggs, 6-3 Ross Southeastern senior, 17.5.

CLASS A
Joining Smith on the Class A first unit were Willy Mays, 6-4 Proctorville Fairland senior, 18.0; Dave Poling, 6-5 Union Furnace Starr - Washington senior, 24.1; Gary Swinehart, 6-4 Crooksville senior, 25.0; and Joe Ward, 6-4 Piketon senior, 26.9. Second team area Class A picks were Doug Davis, 5-10 Pike Eastern junior, 17.0; Dennis Eichinger, 16-3, Meigs Eastern junior, 19-7; Arthur Clark, 6-5 North Gallia, junior, 22.3; Roger Weaver, 6-foot Laurelville senior 19.0 and Dwight Garrett, Frankfort Adena senior, 21.0.

Big - Name Pitchers Work For Start Of Regular Season

The big-name pitchers are rapidly getting in shape for the start of the baseball season. Phil Niekro hurled five good innings Tuesday. Mike Cuellar went seven ... and Choji Murata went nine.

Choji Murata pitches for Japan's Lotte Orions and he stifled the California Angels 7-2 on seven hits, including Tony Conigliaro's first home run. Murata walked four and fanned eight.

Niekro, whose knuckleball didn't knuckle down to business last year, yielded only one hit during his stint as the Atlanta Braves whipped the Minnesota Twins 5-2.

Baltimore's Cuellar, off a lackadaisical winter campaign, was in world championship form, blanking the Los Angeles Dodgers for seven innings in a 3-0 Oriole victory. Tom Dukes finished up and Frank Robinson belted a mammoth home run.

Japan's other touring team, the Tokyo Giants, lost to Pittsburgh 6-2 when the Pirates scored four times in the eighth inning. Gene Clines had four hits for the Bucs.

Rookie Bill Bonham and veteran Bill Hands combined for a one-hitter—a single by Rafael Robles in the fifth—and the Chicago Cubs edged the San Diego Padres 2-1 on Jose Ortiz' ninth-inning RBI triple. And Houston Astros also got strong pitching. Tom Bradley and two rookies stopped the New York Yankees 8-0 on four hits as the clubs began a two-game visit to Venezuela. It was New York's eighth consecutive setback.

Sore-armed Don Wilson worked five scoreless innings and Houston downed Philadelphia 4-1.

Cleveland outlasted Oakland 10-7 in another game featuring the experimental three-ball walk. There was a total of 23 walks.

The Detroit Tigers trounced the New York Mets 10-4 behind

a six-run outburst in the fifth, capped by Mickey Stanley's grand slam. Jose Cardenal's grand slam was one of three St. Louis homers—Ted Simmons and Joe Torre hit the others—in the Cardinals' 10-7 triumph over Cincinnati.

Washington got home runs from Mike Epstein and Frank Howard, the first for each, and shaded Boston 5-4 with a run in the ninth. San Francisco nipped Milwaukee 6-5 on George Foster's 10th-inning sacrifice fly.

The Montreal Expos stole the go-ahead run in the top of the ninth when Jim Fahey and Garry Sutherland pulled a double steal and downed Kansas City 6-4.

Canton McKinley Reaches 'Sweet 16' Tourney Play

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Is this the year Canton McKinley High School wins its first state basketball tournament title? The Canton school has reached the "Sweet Sixteen" in its class eliminations 17 previous times, yet never has won the state championship.

Regional tournament action begins tonight with Canton McKinley, a five-time loser during the regular season, clashing with third-ranked Boardman (22-0) in the Canton Auditorium in a Class AAA pairing.

There are only three other regional games tonight, two of them in Class AAA.

In other Class AAA contests, Cleveland St. Ignatus (21-1) faces Cleveland East Tech (19-2) in the Canton Fieldhouse and eighth-ranked Celina (21-1) goes against Whitehall (16-6) in the Columbus State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

In Class AA, Warren Champion (19-3) and Elyria Catholic (17-5) in the Copley Athletic. There are no Class A games tonight.

Coach Bob Rupert calls his Canton McKinley squad the best-balanced team he's had in his 10 years there, even if the Bulldogs were only 13-5 in the regular season.

"It was the toughest schedule we've ever played. This team has more balance than the one two years ago," Rupert said. All-Ohio Nick Weatherspoon led the 1969 Bulldogs.

Canton McKinley has been a state tournament runnerup seven times, in 1928, 1930, 1931, 1940, 1943, 1956 and 1969. The Bulldogs reached the state semi-finals on six other occasions.

Knicks Smash L.A. Lakers, Win 115-82

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The lights dimmed in New York and got brighter for Atlanta and Chicago.

While New York tolerated another power failure—this one confined to the game between Los Angeles and the Knicks at Madison Square Garden—Atlanta's Hawks and Chicago's Bulls brightened their chances for National Basketball Association playoff berths.

The Knicks demolished the Lakers 115-82, Atlanta overhauled Philadelphia 130-125 and Chicago outran Baltimore 113-99 Tuesday night.

In other NBA action Cleveland upset San Francisco 108-103, Cincinnati held off Buffalo 113-102 and Milwaukee belted Phoenix 119-111.

In the American Basketball Association Indiana pounded Pittsburgh 130-119, Kentucky bombed New York 122-104 and Memphis mauled Denver 127-118.

The Knicks were leading 71-58 late in the third period when most of the lights—along with the scoreboard, clocks and public address system—went on the blink.

"Let's hide the ball off the court," Los Angeles center Wilt Chamberlain joked as the fourth quarter began with New York 80-63. "Then they won't be able to find it either."

It might not have been a bad idea. Moments later the Knicks reeled off 11 straight points to finish off the Lakers. Walt Frazier topped New York with 22 points. Willie McCarter had 19 for the losers.

Atlanta, runner-up in the Central Division, retained its 1½-game edge over Cincinnati in its playoff race. The Hawks trailed Philadelphia by 18 points but Lou Hudson and Pete Maravich combined for 30 fourth-quarter points to turn the tide. Hudson finished with 43.

Pitching Still Plagues Cincy Reds

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds apparently have not hurdled their pitching problems, contrary to what they had thought.

The Reds said Tuesday that lefthander Jim Merritt, bothered by a sore arm late in 1970, was unable to loosen up properly for a test and it is doubtful whether he will be in shape for the coming season.

"I'd say the signs are that he won't be ready," Manager Sparky Anderson said about Merritt who won 20 games last year. "He recovers quickly, though, so we'll have to wait and see."

Team physicians had said that Merritt had recovered from the ailment.

Anderson also said that "it looks like we're going to leave him (Don Gullett) in the bullpen. He's not going to be a starter until he shows me he can get his breaking ball over consistently. So far he hasn't shown me."

Gullett was outstanding in relief roles last year as a rookie, and he and Merritt, and Gary Nolan, Wayne Simpson and Jim McGlothlin had been figured by Anderson to comprise the starting rotation.

Simpson also was sidelined by arm trouble last year but he has pitched this spring and appears to be healed.

Pitching proved to be a major downfall for the Reds in the World Series against Baltimore.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Scoring leaders Ken Kowall of Ohio University and Ruben Van of Kent State were the only unanimous choices on the 1971 Mid-American all-conference basketball team chosen by the head coaches.

Kowall, the league's Player of the Year, led Mid-American scorers with a 22.6 average. He's a 6-foot-1 senior from Parma Heights.

Vance, a 6-3 junior from Canton, hit a 21.9-point clip to finish second in the league scoring derby.

Other first team selections were Ohio's Craig Love a 6-8 senior from Franklin, Mich.; Western Michigan's Earl Jenkins, 6-7 Detroit senior, and Chuck Washington, 6-3 junior from Centerville, Mich., and Toledo's Tom Kozelko, 6-8 sophomore from Trverse City, Mich.

Placed on the second team were Jim Connally and Rich Walker of Bowling Green, Darrel Dunlap and Mike Wrtm of Miami and Roger Evans of Kent State.

Love was a first selection last year and Wren made the second unit for the second successive season.

The personable Snyder, dean of Mid-American Conference coaches in terms of service, heads into his 22nd year at Ohio University with a 291-209 record and five MAC titles to his credit.

Numerous honors have been bestowed on Snyder, including Ohio college coach of the year in 1961 and 1970. Last year he was also selected MAC and NCAA District Four coach of the year.

A former All-Ohio basketball player at Canton McKinley High School in 1937, Snyder played on OU's 1940-41 cage team which was runnerup in the National Invitational Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

Midwest Cage Powers Open Clash

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Dean Meminger of Marquette and Jim McDaniels of Western Kentucky head the cast of individual stars in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's power-packed Midwest Regional basketball tournament which begins Thursday night.

Each of the four teams competing for a berth in next week's NCAA finals at Houston's Astrodome was ranked among the nation's top ten in the final Associated Press poll.

Meminger, an excellent playmaker, averaged 21 points per game in leading the Warriors, ranked second in the nation, through an undefeated regular season and 62-47 triumph over Miami of Ohio in the Midwest first round last week.

Marquette, 27-0 this year and winner of 39 straight, faces Big Ten champion Ohio State in the regional opener at 7:05 p.m. EST. Southeastern Conference champ Kentucky battles Western Kentucky in the second game at 9:05 p.m. in the first meeting ever between the two Kentucky schools rich in basketball tradition.

Western is ranked No. 7, Kentucky eighth and Ohio State 10th.

HOLDING public attention, and baseballs, are former major league catcher Frank Pytlak (left) and infielder Ken Keltner, in a monumental stunt staged Saturday, August 20, 1938, in Cleveland. Keltner dropped several baseballs from the top of the Terminal Tower, 708 feet up, and Pytlak speared one of them. It broke a record set by Gabby Street many years before who caught a ball tossed from the top of the Washington monument, in the capital, 550 feet high.

Twins Hampered By Players Ills

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The agony of past October lingers on for the Minnesota Twins—and they've had a couple of headaches this spring, too.

Minnesota, blasted out of the first two American League pennant playoffs in successive three-game Baltimore sweeps, is getting ready to make another run for the money. But the Twins' spring training getaway has been slowed by a series of ailments, holdouts and defections.

"It has to hurt when it happens to you twice in a row," says Manager Bill Rigney, who took it on the chin from the Orioles last fall, as had his predecessor, Billy Martin, the previous year. "But we're still facing the same thing, regardless of what happened."

The Twins appear to have the personnel for another successful title defense in the AL West—if they don't run into more of the obstructions that have marked their spring maneuvers.

Rod Carew, the swift, hot-hitting second baseman who was out for most of last season with a mangled knee, showed up early in camp but missed the first week of exhibition play because of 10 abscessed teeth.

Luis Tiant and Dave Boswell, former 20-game winners who won just 10 between them in 1970 because of shoulder and back ailments, were slow working their way into competitive shape. Camilo Pascual, another onetime pitching ace, came to camp on a trial basis. Impressed Rigney in his first outing—and then disappeared without a goodbye.

Bill Zepp, who picked up some of the pitching slack last season with nine victories as a rookie, refused to report and asked the Twins to trade him to Detroit. Outfielder Tony Oliva and Cesar Tovar held out for pay hikes and shortstop Leo Cardenas was missing for a week.

If Rigney gets them all together, the Twins should again produce plenty of runs. Led by

Harmon Killebrew, Oliva and Tovar, they batted .262, tops in the league, and finished nine lengths ahead of second-place Oakland in the West Division race.

The A's and California Angels figure to put up a stronger fight this year, however, and Rigney feels he will need more pitching depth than last year to stay on top.

The 1970 yeomen were Jim Perry, the AL Cy Young Award winner; Dutch-born teen-ager Bert Blyleven, left-handers Tom "The Blade" Hall and Jim Kaat, relief artists Ron Perranoski and Stan Williams, and Zepp.

Perry, 24-12, Blyleven, 10-9, and Kaat, 14-10, are likely starters. Hall, a 150-pounder who was 11-6 with 184 strikeouts, could go as a starter or reliever. Tiant, 7-3, and Boswell, 3-7 are the question marks.

Perranoski, who set a league mark of 34 saves, and Williams, 0-1 with 15 saves, are solid stoppers. Sal Campisi, picked up from St. Louis in the Twins' lone off-season deal, might make it in the bullpen, too.

Rigney is heartened by the imminent return to form of Carew, who was batting .376 last June when he injured his knee in a sliding mishap. "When you lose Carew for 110 games, you're losing a run a game," he says.

Third baseman Killebrew batted .271 swatted 41 homers and knocked in 113 runs last year. Right fielder Oliva had his best season with 23 homers and 107 RBI.

Center fielder Tovar hit .300. He could switch to left if Paul Ray Powell, a gifted glove man, hits enough to make the jump from the minors. Otherwise, Tovar probably will stay in center, with Brant Alyea, .291, 16 homers, and Jim Holt, .286, again platooning in left.

Rich Reese, who fell from .320 in 1970 to .261 last year, returns at first. Cardenas, .247 is the incumbent shortstop. George Mitterwald, .222, and Paul Ratliff, .268, will handle the catching.

ORDINANCE NO. 851
AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF NOTES IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF IMPROVING AND ENLARGING THE WATERWORKS SYSTEM OF THE VILLAGE BY CONSTRUCTING A WATER LINE AND ALL NECESSARY APPURTENANCES, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, the Clerk has certified that the estimated life and usefulness of the property and improvements contemplated is at least five years, and has further certified that the maximum maturity of bonds calculated in accordance with Section 133.20 of the Revised Code of Ohio, is forty years and of not more than five years, or one year, if sold privately;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE VILLAGE OF ASHVILLE, Pickaway County, Ohio:

Section 1. That it is necessary to issue bonds of the Village of Ashville in the principal sum of $30,000.00 for the purpose of improving and enlarging the waterworks system of the Village by constructing a water line and all necessary appurtenances.

Section 2. That said bonds shall be dated approximately November 1, 1971, shall bear interest at the estimated rate of seven per centum, payable semi-annually, until the principal sum is paid, and shall mature in twenty-five years or equal annual installments after their issuance.

Section 3. That for the purpose of raising money in anticipation of the issuance of said bonds, it is hereby declared necessary to issue and there shall be issued notes of the Village in the aggregate principal amount of $30,000.00. Such notes shall be issued in series and in such number and denomination as determined by the Clerk. Such notes shall be dated as of the date of their issuance.

Section 4. Such notes shall be executed by the Mayor and Clerk and bear the seal of the corporation. They shall be payable at the office of the Clerk-Treasurer, Village Hall, Ashville, Ohio, and shall express upon their faces the purpose for which they are issued and that they are issued pursuant to this ordinance.

Section 5. Said notes shall be first offered to the Clerk-Treasurer as officer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund, and, if not taken by said fund, are hereby awarded and sold to Ashville Bank, Ashville, Ohio, for not less than par value thereof; and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium, shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose, and that purpose said money is hereby appropriated. Any premium shall be transferred to the Bond Retirement Fund to be applied in the principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

Section 6. Said notes shall be the full and true faith, credit and revenue of said Village and are hereby pledged for the payment of principal and interest thereon. The par value to be received from the sale of the bonds anticipated by said notes and any excess funds resulting from the sale of said notes shall be used only for the retirement of said notes at maturity, together with the interest thereon, and is hereby pledged for such purpose.

Section 7. During the year or years which such notes run there shall be levied on all the taxable property in said Village, in addition to all other taxes, direct tax annually not less than that which would have been levied if bonds had been issued therefor without the prior issue of said notes. Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, levied and collected by the same officers in the same manner and at the same time that taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other taxes and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levies hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which, together with the interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the principal and interest of said notes or the bonds in anticipation of which they are issued when and as the same fall due, or provided, however, that in each year to the extent that the income from the waterworks system is available for the payment of such notes and bonds and is appropriated for such purpose, the amount of such tax shall be reduced by the amount of such income so available and appropriated.

Section 8. It is hereby determined and recited that all acts, contracts and things necessary to be done, precedent to and in the issuing of said notes in order to make them legal, valid and binding obligations of the Village of Ashville, have been done and performed in regular and due form as required by law; and that no limitation of indebtedness or taxation, either statutory or constitutional, will have been exceeded in the issuance of said notes.

Section 9. The Village covenants that the proceeds of said notes shall not be invested or used in such manner that any of said notes would be "arbitrage bonds" for purposes of Section 103(d)(1)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

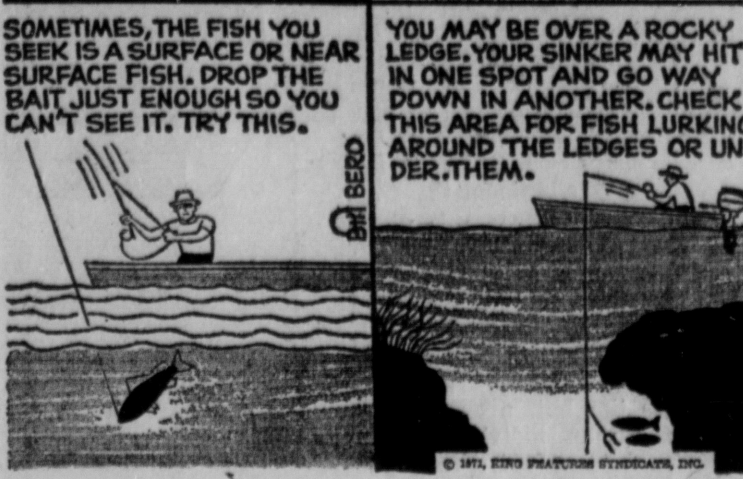

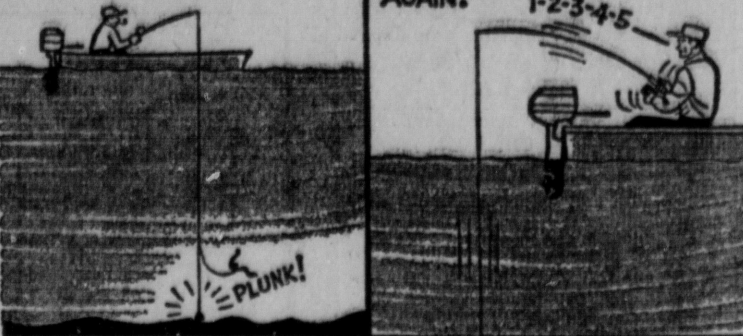

Section 10. The Clerk is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor.

Section 11. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of said Village, and for the further reason that the immediate sale of said notes is necessary to enable the Village to provide necessary fire protection wherefore, the ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its passage.

SPORTS Highlights

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Four spots on the West team and eight on the East squad remain to be filled for the ninth coaches' East-West College All-Star Basketball game Saturday, April 3, in the University of Dayton Arena.

West selections announced Tuesday were 6-foot-8 Willie Sojourner of Weber State, 6-9 Stan Love of Oregon and 6-8 Cliff Meely of Colorado.

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Jim Ryan, former Kansas University runner who holds the world record in the mile, will make his eighth appearance in the Kansas Relays next month. Bob Timmons, Kansas coach and relays director, said Tuesday that Ryan, who has just ended an 18-month hiatus from track competition, has promised to compete in the Glenn Cunningham mile event April 17.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Firing the coals for a certain dollar war with the National Basketball Association, the American Basketball Association Kentucky Colonels signed Jacksonville All-American Artis Gilmore to a pact called "the biggest ever given to an ABA player."

The 7-foot-2 center, flanked by Colonels' President Mike Storen and ABA President Wendell Cherry, signed the pact before 11,000 spectators in Louisville's massive Freedom Hall Tuesday night.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Connie Hawkins, like the prodigal son, may be returning home. The Hawk, who jumped from the Pittsburgh franchise of the American Basketball Association last season to the Phoenix Suns of the NBA, has a verbal agreement with the Pittsburgh Condors to sign a contract at the end of this season, the Associated Press learned Tuesday.

ORDINANCE NO. 851
FOR THE ISSUANCE OF NOTES IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF IMPROVING AND ENLARGING THE WATERWORKS SYSTEM OF THE VILLAGE BY CONSTRUCTING A WATER LINE AND ALL NECESSARY APPURTENANCES, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, the Clerk has certified that the estimated life and usefulness of the property and improvements contemplated is at least five years, and has further certified that the maximum maturity of bonds calculated in accordance with Section 133.20 of the Revised Code of Ohio, is forty years, or one year, if sold privately;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY the Council of the Village of Ashville, Pickaway County, Ohio:

Section 1. That it is necessary to issue bonds of the Village of Ashville in the principal sum of $50,000.00 for the purpose of improving and enlarging the waterworks system of the Village by constructing a water line and all necessary appurtenances.

Section 2. That said bonds shall be dated approximately November 1, 1971, shall bear interest at the estimated rate of seven per centum (7 per cent) per annum, payable semi-annually, until the principal sum is paid, and shall mature in twenty-five (25) years, or equal annual installments after their issuance.

Section 3. That for the purpose of raising money in anticipation of the issuance of said bonds, it is hereby declared necessary to issue advance notes in the principal sum of $50,000.00. Such notes shall be issued in a series of $10,000.00 notes, the denomination as determined by the Clerk. Such notes shall be dated as of the date of the first note, and shall bear interest at the rate of 6 1/2 per centum per annum, payable at maturity, and shall mature on the date of the first note in the series.

Section 4. Such notes shall be executed by the Mayor and Clerk and bear the seal of the corporation. They shall be payable at the office of the Clerk-Treasurer, Village Hall, Ashville, Ohio, and shall express upon their faces the purpose for which they are issued and that they are issued pursuant to this ordinance.

Section 5. Said notes shall be first offered to the Clerk-Treasurer, as officer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund, and if not taken by said fund are hereby awarded and sold to Ashville Bank, Ashville, Ohio, for not less than par value thereof; and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium shall be used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose, for which purpose such money is hereby appropriated. Any premium shall be transferred to the Bond Retirement Fund to be applied in the principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

Section 6. Said notes shall be the full legal obligations of the Village and the full faith, credit and revenue of said Village are hereby pledged for the prompt payment of the same. The principal and interest of said notes shall be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds anticipated by said notes and any excess funds resulting from the sale of said notes shall be used to the extent necessary to be used only for the retirement of said notes at maturity, together with the interest thereon, and is hereby pledged for such purpose.

Section 7. During the year or years which said notes run there shall be levied on all the taxable property in said Village, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax at the rate of not less than that which would have been levied if bonds had been issued for the purpose of the prior issue of said notes. Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, levied and extended upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers in the same manner and at the same time that taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levies hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which, together with the interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the principal and interest of said notes or the bonds in anticipation of which they are issued when and as the same fall due, provided, however, that in each year to the extent that the income from the waterworks system is available for the payment of such notes and bonds, and is appropriated for such purpose, the amount of such tax shall be reduced by the amount of such income so available and appropriated.

Section 8. It is hereby ordered and recited that all acts, conditions and things necessary to be done, precedent to and in the issuing of said notes in order to make them legal, valid and binding obligations of the Village of Ashville, have been done and performed in regular and due form as required by law; and that no limitation of indebtedness or other action, provision, or constitutional will have been exceeded in the issuance of said notes.

Section 9. The Village covenants that the proceeds of said notes shall not be invested or used in such manner that any of said notes would be "arbitrage bonds" for purposes of Section 104.01 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

Section 10. The Clerk is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor.

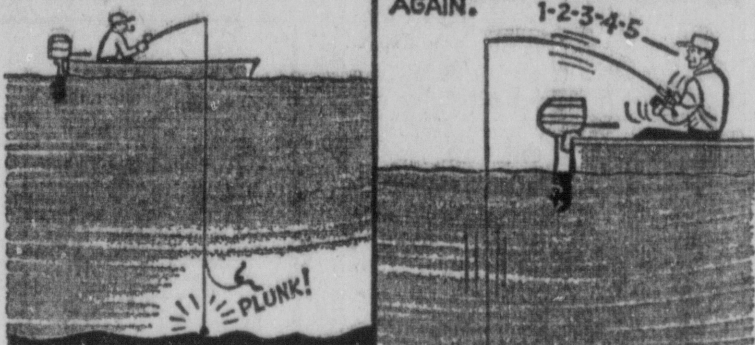

Section 11. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of said Village, and for the further reason that the immediate sale of said notes is necessary to enable the Village to provide necessary fire protection, wherefore, the ordinance shall be in effect immediately upon its passage.

AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING THE AMOUNT OF ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATION TO BE PAID FOR EASEMENTS NECESSARY TO PERMIT THE WIDENING OF ATWATER AVENUE FROM WILSON AVENUE TO SUNSET DRIVE AS AUTHORIZED BY ORDINANCE NO. 40-70 AND DECLARING THE SAME TO BE AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Circleville, State of Ohio, on May 19th, 1970, passed Ordinance No. 40-70;

WHEREAS, Ordinance No. 40-70 authorized the Director of Public Service to purchase easements necessary to the widening of Atwater Avenue from Wilson Avenue to Sunset Drive and set consideration to be paid for said easements;

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1. That the Director of Public Service is hereby authorized to pay $187.50 additional consideration for damages of a hedge located on Parcel Number Five, as described in Ordinance No. 40-70.

SECTION 2. That it is the intent of Council that the above payment be made in addition to the consideration as provided in Section Three of Ordinance No. 40-70, for Parcel Number Five.

SECTION 3. That Council declared this to be an emergency ordinance necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, such emergency arising out of the necessity to provide adequate right-of-way for the extension of Atwater Avenue without undue delay in order to correct a situation now deemed undesirable. REAGAN SEEKS SWEEPING WELFARE REFORM—Speaking at Town Hall in Los Angeles, Gov. Ronald Reagan of California proposes a sweeping reform of the state's welfare system designed to remove "unneeded" from relief rolls and save taxpayers $75 million a year. The program would put able-bodied welfare recipients to work, cut medical benefits and close "legal loopholes."

Women Announce Retirement From Teaching Careers

Two retirements were announced Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the Circleville City Board of Education.

Mrs. Lucille Scott, a third grade teacher at Atwater Elementary, announced her retirement at the end of the current school year. Mrs. Scott has taught for 48 years, 25 in Circleville school system.

Miss Martha Reid, who has had a long career as fifth grade teacher in the city, will also retire in June.

Resignations were accepted from Mrs. Louisa Stemm and Miss Nancy Hudderman, both Mound St. elementary teachers.

A GUEST policy for the Junior-Senior Prom was okayed by the board. Under its provisions, Circleville students may invite guests to the spring formal if they are approved by the school. No junior high or elementary students will be permitted to attend and physical appearance of guests must be compatible with the CHS dress code.

April 14 was adopted for kindergarten registration day for the 1971-72 school year and for first grade registration for all six-year-olds not currently enrolled in a kindergarten class. Enrollment will be at the local schools.

Two new teachers were given contracts by the board. Mrs. Martha Pendasulo and Mrs. Diana Lands were accepted to fill vacancies in the elementary system next fall.

Lawrence Johnson was reappointed agent of the schools' fire and extended coverage insurance.

To comply with a request made by the owner of a lot neighboring the Mill St. gym, board members authorized work to raise the short retaining wall between the properties to prevent water from flooding into the resident's yard. The work was contracted to George Myers for $230.

Additional equipment for each school's audio-visual departments at a total cost of $4,780.70, half of which is reimbursable from the state.

THE Circleville Science Club was given permission for a trip to Chicago on Mar. 25 to 28. The 28 students will travel by bus with five adult chaperones. Teachers requests for attendance at professional meetings were approved. They include:

Carol Mader, Science Club trip; Lois Brobst, Business Education Convention in Columbus, April 1-3; Steve Brudzinski, Richard Neel and Kester McCain, Industrial Arts meeting, Columbus, Mar. 11; Brent Bell and James Lint, state wrestling meet; Clifford Kerns, music convention in Cincinnati, Mar. 11 and 12; Donald Metzler, Ohio Testing Conference, Mar. 23 and John Lawhorn, basketball clinic Apr. 2 in Dayton and May 24 in Columbus.

The senior class and the family of Steve Davis will provide a memorial to the CHS student who was killed in an auto accident last summer. A stone sun dial about three feet tall will be installed in the northwest side of the building along the walk. Members of the school board gave their approval on the project.

Discarded lockers which cannot be used in the junior high schools were donated to the YMCA.

Members of the Circleville board are President R. L. Brehmer Jr., Ruth Crist, Tom Elsea, Dale Delong, Forrest Brown and clerk, Mary Ellen Rader.

Nixon Gets Social Security Bill; Benefits 26 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has handed the Nixon administration a powerful catalyst to ignite the nation's economy, boosting Social Security benefits for 26 million Americans who usually spend instead of save.

The 10-per-cent across-the-board increase in benefits, retroactive to Jan. 1, will pump $3.6 billion into the pocketbooks of persons on limited incomes.

The increases were tied to a bill raising the national debt limit a record $35 billion to $430 billion.

As President Nixon prepared to sign the measure today, the nation's economy was in a sluggish state, failing to respond to the fiscal and monetary policies he has put into effect.

The economic thrust of the Social Security bill will be far-reaching. The extra money, as one economic expert put it, "will go to a lot of people who have been forced to scrimp."

It will be June before the Social Security administration includes the new benefits in paychecks.

Nixon had asked Congress to increase Social Security benefits by 6 per cent, a proposal that would have put $2.1 billion into the hands of retired persons this year, the lawmakers voted for the 10-per-cent hike.

The president proposed raising the income base on which taxes are paid from $7,800 to $9,000, an effective tax increase of $2.5 billion.

Congress, following advice of Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns and private economists, postponed the tax increase until next June 1.

In 1970, consumer spending exceeded 7 per cent of disposable personal income, extremely high by historical standards. The administration has predicted the savings rate will come down as the economy expands. The Social Security rise could help lead the way.

The administration's economic target of a 9-per-cent increase in output of goods and services this year relies heavily on a sharp expansion in the money supply by the independent Federal Reserve Board.

The board has expressed reluctance to expand the money supply as fast as Nixon wants and has talked instead of new fiscal measure, such as the Social Security rise, to give the economy an additional thrust.

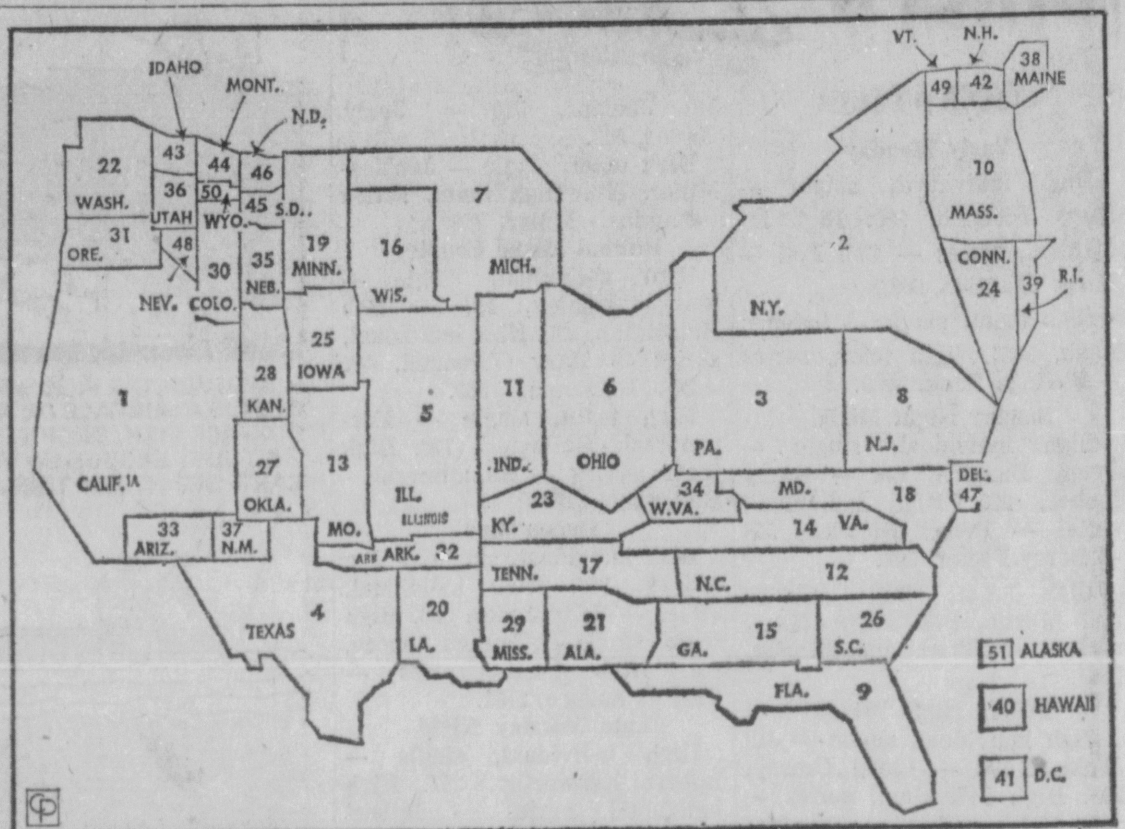

The benefit increase is viewed also as noninflationary because it comes at a time when the economy is not yet operating at its full potential. Unemployment is high and business is poor.

Under the bill, average payments for an individual were increased from $114 a month to $126. For a couple, the increase is from $199 to $219. The maximum payment for a retiring worker was raised from $193.70 to $213.10. The minimum payment of $64 a month was increased to $70.40. The boost, added to a 15-percent increase made in January, goes to those receiving retirement, disability and family-survivor checks.

The bill removes the 4 1/4-per cent interest ceiling on long-term government bonds for $10 billion of Treasury securities, a limitation the government has long sought to remove.

MAPPED IN ORDER OF POPULATION, the United States presents a somewhat startling sight. The Census Bureau figures put California No. 1, New York No. 2, etc.

Thomas E. Dewey Dies Suddenly At Age Of 68

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Some gentle advice from his singing teacher turned Thomas E. Dewey from pursuit of a career on the concert stage to a life of law and Republican politics that included two bids for the presidency.

THOMAS E. DEWEY

Dewey, who served three terms as governor of New York, died of a heart attack in his hotel room Tuesday as he was preparing to fly to Washington for a White House party. He was 68.

President Nixon praised Dewey as "a great patriot, a distinguished statesman and a fine human being" and said of the party, "The occasion is diminished beyond words for both Mrs. Nixon and me by his death."

Funeral arrangements were pending early today but the body was to be flown by private plane this afternoon to New York City.

Dewey was an aspiring young baritone just out of college in 1923 when he went to New York to study with the famous singing coach, Percy Rector Stephens.

Stephens eventually advised Dewey that he sang "too intelligently" to expect outstanding success. Music critic Deems Taylor put it a bit more critically when he observed Dewey's singing lacked feeling.

The lack of flair or flamboyance they found in his singing was seen by some of Dewey's Republican critics in later years as the reason for his failure to win the White House.

But Dewey began his public career as one of the toughest racket-busting prosecutors of his time. His rise started with his appointment as a special prosecutor in 1935 to conduct the Rackets Investigation in New York County.

He was elected district attorney of the county two years later. He obtained convictions against 72 of 73 defendants, shattering a powerful web of racketeers.

Best known among them was Charles "Lucky" Luciano. Another big name was James J. Hines, a Tammany district leader accused of being a protector of gangsters.

He drew national attention when he ran for governor of New York in 1938, losing to Herbert H. Lehman by only 64,000 votes. A concerted effort was made to get him the Republican presidential nomination in 1940 but it went instead to Wendell Willkie.

Dewey ran for governor again in 1942 and won by an impressive margin. Under pressure from supporters he ran for and received the GOP presidential nomination in 1944 but it was an almost impossible fight.

When Dewey again received the GOP bid in 1948 his election seemed a sure thing. Truman was at a low ebb of popularity, and Henry Wallace, running a Progressive, and Strom Thurmond, as a States Rights Democrat, were considered sure to take important votes that would have gone to Truman.

Although he immediately said he would never run for public office again, Dewey changed his mind and ran successfully for a third term as governor in 1950.

PX Probers . .

Crum described Bybee, who was the star of the subcommittee hearings, as "an extremely vindictive man" who got fired.

Wallace said the program's own investigation showed that Bybee incorrectly claimed on his business card that he was a lawyer.

Crum said in the interview that Bybee had often dropped hints he was the nephew of Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., and claimed his uncle's influence was used to lift a ban on sales to post exchanges in Korea. Goldwater told CBS he had never heard of Bybee and never wrote letters on his behalf.

Crum has so far successfully avoided subpoenas and requests to appear before the Senate's investigative subcommittee. Wallace asked why he did not testify and Crum said, "My doctors have requested that I do not travel that long a distance."

Wallace asked him a final question: "Your critics call you the unchallenged money king of Vietnam, atop a consortium of corruption of $40 million?"

Crum replied, "As far as being a money king, I wish I knew where the money was hidden."

The Senate subcommittee has indicated in recent days it would also like to know.

FLUSHING OUT CLUES?—Senate leaders, Hugh Scott (bending) of the Republicans and Mike Mansfield of the Democrats, inspect the men's room in the Capitol in Washington where the bomb was detonated. "There have been threats, as many as five a week, over a period of some months," said Mansfield.
